

Who is better?

This discussion has been going on since time immemorial.

The wiser generation feels that their time, management, culture, practices, beliefs, values etc. were better, while the young generation feels that the present-day is better.

Similar discussions also happen in organizations, when there is :-

Change in the leadership, in professional-managed companies

OR

Succession in a family-owned business

Many times, it is like a continuous fun-filled tug of war, where winning or losing is not the objective.

It just goes on, work goes on, life goes on.

Sometimes, the tug-of-war can become too intense, when both sides try to overpower each other & the rope (business objective) comes under too much strain without any consequence.

Progress halts!

So, who is better & how to decide?

So, who is better & how to decide?

Impossible to answer as it is more of a > 9 6 < 'perspective'.

The best way to deal with this situation is to ask:-

How can both sides work together for the betterment of the organization?

Everything that exists today, has been accepted by people, society, business & generations & that's why it exists today.

Think FAR

- ▶ Find commonalities.
- ▶ Appreciate the good in other.
- ▶ Respect & accept the differences.
