    - vi. Partner activity
      1. This weeks activity has been inspired by the Katie Wilcox small group dinner, Circle of Sisterhood Week, It's On Us Week, and general Women's Empowerment.
      2. This is now our 11th Council Meeting of the year! Every week I have done some sort of icebreaker, get to know you, pair and share, community building, etc. activity. Many have been mostly surface-level and light-hearted. While that is a great way to become familiar with each other in the room, Exec and myself, feel the need to foster a community environment that goes beyond the surface.
      3. This activity will ask you to reflect and think critically about your personal experiences and the struggles of collegiate women around the world.
      4. This, as always, is a challenge by choice activity. But with pretty much everything in life, you will only get out of this activity what you put into it.
      5. I know it may be uncomfortable to be vulnerable at first but know that you are in a room surrounded by a community of women that care about you and support you.
