

What if you can't find Totally Raw food locally?

Totally raw is not found everywhere therefore if you are in an area where it is not available we can transition your cat onto Big Country Raw which is a Canadian made company sold in larger retailers throughout Canada & USA including Pet Valu, Global Pets and Rens. Here is a store locator: <https://bigcountryraw.ca/find-us/>

Big Country Raw sells raw marketed for both dogs and cats with the only relevant difference being SOME dog foods have added fruit/veg which cats do not need. So with that being said some of their foods marketed for dogs are perfectly fine for cats (and way cheaper).

Big Country raw has a cat based line called "Fair Game" which has a wide range of blended proteins. To compare the price of the cat line to the dog branded lines chicken protein, the price of the cat line is $7.99/lb where as the dog branded food is $4.49/lb

So how do you know which ones are good without reading the ingredients of every box? Easy! All of their foods that list "Dinner" are a NO. Beef Dinner, Chicken Dinner etc. This implies a complete meal (for dogs) which includes fruit/veg.

What you are looking for is "Pure". Pure Beef, Pure Chicken etc. These will be fit for cats as they do not contain any additional ingredients. They sell multiple proteins of each kind and you can find a favourite or rotate between them.

Keep in mind there are other brands of pre made raw food to choose from that you can transition them onto but ideally just wait until they are comfortable in their new home to make the change!
