International Women's Day 2021 The Progress and the Promise of Women #choosetochallenge

Women Matter, a club on clubhouse started by Dr. Lola Adeyemi but owned by all of us, will be hosting a special session honoring International Women's Day on March 8, 2021. The mission is to empower millions by having notable people speak on "The Progress and the Promise of Women". Women Matter has been using its platform to amplify voices to raise awareness to women's issues. This event is intended to raise awareness, showcase women leaders and allies in their respective fields, and fundraise for women on the platform that have been impacted by Covid19 to address their needs. The event brings speakers and collaborators from around the world to contribute to the event by speaking for 10 minutes within 1 hour intervals in different categories from leadership to entrepreneurship to beauty and politics and much more.
