Violence in our streets is continually reported. It can have startling effects on our health and welfare, especially for young children. We as a human society should realize that positive energy is a negative energy deterrent. Hence, when more positive stories are prioritized with the same vigorous energy as negative news, it enables the external energy of a loving environment to become stronger. Through this, we can learn the importance of loving our neighbor.

Good neighbors always seem to be at the right place at the appropriate time. For instance, there is 16-year-old Anthony Alexander, Jr., a 'good neighbor', at the right place and the right time. On February 21, 2022, Anthony was with his friends at Collingdale Park in Delaware County when a little girl ran up to him asking him to help her friends.

help, so I got to help them. I wasn't going to sit there and let them drown like that." This selfless heroic act of love and kindness lives in the hearts and souls of all 'good neighbors.'

We, as a society, should learn to plant the seeds of 'Brotherly Love and Sisterly Affection' in our children, so they, too, will learn that human life is the most valuable natural resource we have on earth. By sharing this universal law with our children, we can produce like-minded individuals that could grow into responsible adults. That love for human life was shared with us by Mr. Anthony Alexander, Jr. Now, we as a very grateful community, must promote this

Anthony called 911 as he ran down to the pond to find three elementary school-aged children who had fallen through the ice. He grabbed a tree branch to rescue them but ended up falling into the frigid water. He then pulled one little kid out and the other, a girl, was close enough for him to reach her, so he pulled her out, too. The third child was rescued by a police officer who had arrived on the scene. Anthony said, "They really needed extremely humane and heroic act of love for our fellow human beings. He showed Philadelphia and the whole world just what love has to do with it. He truly is a very special person and one of the greatest neighbors of all time. He will forever be a hero! PRH.
