

NOVEMBER 2014

Ria Grivell and Acacia Ridge Gallileo were chosen to do the dummy ride at Adelaide International Horse Trials , lovely to follow the progress of this pair. Photo below.

Congratulations to Deb Lampard on the purchase of Acacia Ridge Geneva. We were very sad to see Geneva go, she has been such a gem, practically unbeaten in the ten months I have been competing her. To win the Prelim Championships in May and then the Novice Championships in October was very exciting. I wish Deb and Chris all the best with this lovely girl. Deb will be competing her in dressage in Victoria and Chris has already had her to clinics. She has settled in well and already has new admirers.

Acacia Ridge Galliano also left the same week for his new home in WA where he will be campaigned by his new owner Michelle Barkley . Michelle will be bringing Gallie on quietly with he intention of aming him at an eventing career, but will initially concentrate on dressage. It is exciting to have another up and coming eventer in WA. Best of luck to Michelle and Gallie, we look forward to following their progress. Photo of Gallie at dressage with Anna and having his first jumping session with Ty, jumping 1.10cm and making it look like a cavalietti. A very talented young man.'
