

Christmas Cheer!

When asked what would cheer the pandemic weary. I came up with this page of things that should go no where else!

*There was a farmer named Gary
Whose mule was getting contrary.
Gary painted him red,
A green hat on his head.
Sold him as a huge Christmas fairy.*

The Weather Outside is frightful...

For almost 3 years we have provided a space for the Enfield Quilters to meet. This year with the pandemic they haven't met but they did sew! Their mission was to provide us with something we could auction to replace a normally scheduled fundraiser. The Quilt is 66 inches by 55 inches, a cuddler not full bed size. It is Methodist red with white background! Christmas festive and a wonderful gift to us! Think of all your celebrations this year this quilt will make an excellent gift to yourself or someone else!

In order to auction we will do a silent auction. Please send your Bid to

Bidding will close on December 18th with announcement of winner on the 20th

Boy Scout Troop 108:

This group has managed to meet either on ZOOM or outside all through the pandemic. Scout Camp was closed so they held camp virtually. They even had boys sleeping in their backyards and ZOOMing that preparation. Our leadership in this group cannot be matched and the boys who belong are grateful! Now that it is winter they are on ZOOM again hoping for in person meetings soon!

The Call to Prayer

We need to do this more than ever, a simple prayer to all in need. A complex prayer for those you know. You can sit for 5 minutes or 2 hours but everybody needs prayer. As we are surrounded by the holiday season please think of your neighbors who are all alone, community members who are sick and children waiting on Christmas. Our prayer list is extensive here are a few: Peg Steinert, Ed Butcher, Walt Skukowski, first responders, Health Care Workers, teachers, students, military personnel.

The Food Shelf

The Enfield Food Shelf is still in need and it grows greater every day. With parents having kids at home the need for more food is great. Protein: canned meats, peanut butter, are in great need as well as breakfast foods. Please remember they can do more with a dollar than you can so sending some money is more effective.
