

5/15/2024

Dear Customer,

We value your partnership and are committed to bringing proactive, strategic, solution-oriented thinking to you and Brokerhouse/Vending Products of Canada.

TreeHouse Foods is currently navigating historic inflation in the price of cocoa, a key ingredient in some of our cookie, cracker, candy, refrigerated dough and dry blends categories. Drought conditions exacerbated by climate change and persistent crop disease have drastically reduced supply over the last three years for top cocoa producers. This upward price pressure is expected to continue into the next year.

As a result, we must implement a price increase for orders of these products received on or after Monday July 15th 2024.

Your TreeHouse Foods commercial team will send the specific item detail by category. Please note that to help support service levels, we won't be able to accept forward buys during the upcoming pricing action. We will evaluate conditions quarterly. As we see changes in cocoa costs (up or down), we will revise our pricing accordingly.

We are doing everything in our power to service your business as efficiently and effectively as possible, while providing you with high-quality products. Thank you for your business and understanding.

Best regards,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Sean Lewis".

Sean Lewis
Chief Customer Officer
TreeHouse Foods