FAO: The Parish Priest

Dear Father,

I wrote to you several years ago (around 2017-2018) after my wife Lynns breast cancer diagnosis. You kindly provided a prayer card and St Peregrines oil which was used by Lynn, and some oil was passed onto the Parish priest at my church – St Bede's in Rotherham – for other parishioners afflicted by cancer.

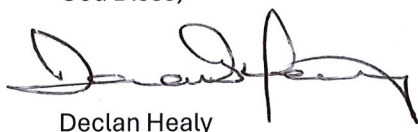

I am happy to say Lynn is still in remission and has had no recurrence of symptoms, all thanks to the combined forces of prayer and the Oncologists in the NHS.

As a token of my thanks, and for the strength prayer to St Peregrine has given, I would like to donate the enclosed money to the shrine.

When I am in London next, I am hoping to visit the shrine to pray in person, my late father lived in the Fulham area when he arrived in London from Co Sligo, Ireland. Himself and his brother tended to visit all the churches in the area to attend mass. It will be emotional to know he will have attended Our Lady of Delours at some point during the 1950's and 1960's.

When you have time would it be possible to drop me a quick email on the email address above just to confirm you have received this money.

God Bless,
