INVITATION TO PARTNER

You are invited to partner with the 2024 International Symposium on Advanced Materials and Sustainable Technologies on 11-13 December 2024 in Hobart, Australia.

This event will bring together over 200 experts from around the globe who are experts in advanced materials and sustainable technologies, and it will provide a highly visible platform to showcase their latest research and innovation. The conference covers a wide range of topics, including but not limited to functional materials, biomaterials, 2D and quantum materials, energy & catalytic materials (e.g. Materials for catalysis, CO<sub>2</sub> reduction, batteries, hydrogen and solar energy conversion), electronic, photonic & magnetic materials, materials computations & characterization, as well as systems and technologies for energy transfer, storage and conversion. The conference features Plenary presentations from world-renowned speakers, and we are honoured to have Australia's Chief Scientist, Dr Cathy Foley, to open our conference.

Join us to SPOTLIGHT your organisation to key stakeholders, ALIGN your brand to the conversations of this leading event, CONNECT meaningfully with your target market and GENERATE new clients and networks. We have a number of sponsorship opportunities available designed to provide maximum brand exposure onsite and in the lead up to the event. We welcome the opportunity to connect with you and tailor a package that suits the goals and objectives of your organisation.
