

Street Romance

The story goes she spends her nights all alone
Oh, so far from home
Broken soul has left her dirty and cold
With nowhere left to go

Eyes left crying as the pain turns to rage
Can't break free from her cage
Street romance bleeding deep in her veins
Can't see the sun through the rain

Please mother take me
Please mother save me
Please mother won't you wake me
from this dream and set me free

Lessons learned begin to replace the hurt
As scars remind her of worse
Street romance keeps her clutched in his hands
She can't break free from her past

Please mother take me
Please mother save me
Please mother won't you wake me
from this dream and set me free

Please mother, won't you take me away, from his hands
Please mother, won't you save me again, from my sin

Please mother...take me away
