

Artist Statement

As an artist I span a wide range of mediums and processes within my work. Combining 2d and 3d elements my work takes over the space no matter how big or small, and pushes the viewer to reflect on their own experiences and relationships to the subject matter and setting. Like my teaching, my work offers the viewer an opportunity to feel a connection to a wide range of communities of which I am a part as an adopted, neurodivergent, queer, female. Identities that I once felt I couldn't always have on display, and still struggle to be always wearing with pride. My work shows you the power that our environments have on who we are and the comfort or discomfort we feel in those identities, and the power we have to create the world we want. In the words of Twyla Thwarp, “Art is the only way to run away without leaving home”.
