hospital solutions

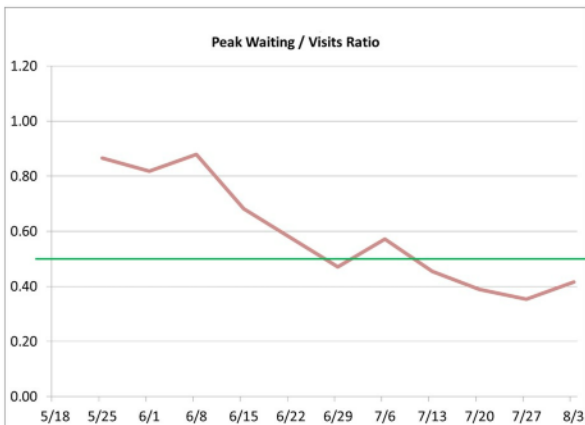

Compirion came into St. John's as a partner in a transformative process. Had they been like any other consultant, they would have dumped the recommendations and run.

But Compirion came to coach, develop and enculturate our organization in the process of finding problems and fixing problems, designing tools and using tools, setting goals and reaching goals, fighting fears and winning.

Compirion turned St. John's inside out and left behind a dynamic, homegrown operating team capable of and ready for anything.

We will never be the same again and the bottom line says it all.
