

FAMILY MASS
Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time
October 11, 2026

FIRST READING: This is a reading from the prophet Isaiah (pronounced: Eye-zay-ah)

Isaiah said to the people.

“God is going to give a big banquet,

a feast with all kinds of good food.

This feast will be celebrated here

On God’s holy mountain.

And God will destroy all evil

that has hurt people of every nation.

God will destroy the power of death

and wipe away the tears from everyone’s eyes.

God will forgive everyone who has sinned.

This will happen because our God said it would.

And when it happens, people will say,

“This is the God for whom we have been waiting,

the God who will save us.

So let us be glad and rejoice in salvation.”

Yes, the hand of God is here and will stay on this holy mountain.

God will be with us forever.!”

The Word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

FAMILY MASS

Twenty-eighth Sunday I Ordinary Time

October 11, 2026

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: (pronounced: Salm)

You are my shepherd; you are my friend, I want to follow you always, just to follow my friend.

I have all I need. You are my shepherd; your hand is with me.

You are my shepherd; you are my friend, I want to follow you always, just to follow my friend.

When the path is dark, you are there guiding me, keeping me safe.

You are my shepherd; you are my friend, I want to follow you always, just to follow my friend.

You give me food to eat. You make me welcome; you fill me with joy.

You are my shepherd; you are my friend, I want to follow you always, just to follow my friend.

Your goodness I know. Your love will be with me all of my life.

You are my shepherd; you are my friend, I want to follow you always, just to follow my friend.

FAMILY MASS

Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

October 11, 2026

SECOND READING: A reading from the Letter of St. Paul to the Philippians (pronounced:
Fill-lip-ee-ans)

Brothers and sisters: I know what it's like to be poor. I also know what it's like to be rich. In all things and in every situation I have learned the secret of having a lot and of having nothing because it's God who makes me strong. Through Jesus Christ, our God will give you whatever you need. To our God and Father, glory forever and ever. Amen

The Word of the Lord!

Thanks be to God!

FAMILY MASS

Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

October 11, 2026

GOSPEL: Matthew 22: 1-10

This is a reading from the Gospel of Matthew.

One day, Jesus told this story to the chief priests and leaders:

“Once there was a king,

who gave a big feast for his son’s wedding.

But when the servants went to get all the people who were invited,
they wouldn’t come.

So the king said to the servants,

‘Go and tell them that the feast is ready,

and I have prepared a wonderful dinner for them.

Everything is ready; come to the feast.’

But the people who were invited didn’t care.

They stayed home and took care of their farms and businesses.

Some of them hurt and even killed the servants
who went to tell them it was time to come.

The king was angry,

and he sent his soldiers to punish those people.

Then he said to some other servants,

‘The wedding is ready,

but the people who were invited weren’t good enough to come.

Go now into the town and invite anyone you see.’

So the servants went out and invited everyone,
good people and bad people.

And soon the wedding hall was filled with people.”

The Gospel of the Lord.