

Project Manager

Bluegreen | Aspen, Colorado

Remote Position with Periodic Travel

Our Why

At Bluegreen, we believe landscape has the power to connect people to place, strengthen communities, and create meaningful human experiences.

We are a regionally focused landscape architecture and construction practice located in Aspen, Colorado. Our work reflects a deep respect for the natural environment, cultural systems, craftsmanship, and collaboration.

Our projects range from intimate residential landscapes to larger community-centered environments; all grounded in thoughtful design, rigorous iteration, and an unwavering attention to detail.

The Project Manager is the bridge between vision and execution.

This role exists to transform ideas into built environments by leading projects from concept through construction while creating exceptional experiences for clients, collaborators, consultants, and project teams.

This is not simply a project administration role. It is a leadership role for someone who understands that successful projects are built through relationships, communication, proactive problem-solving, and a shared commitment to exceptional outcomes.

About Bluegreen

Bluegreen provides bespoke landscape architecture, installation, and stewardship solutions that evoke our clients' unique identities across the spectrums of art, culture, and environment. Our work reflects a deep understanding of how natural and cultural systems operate and how thoughtful landscapes can strengthen belonging, resilience, and human connection.

Our studios operate with curiosity, collaboration, and responsiveness at the center. Ideas are shared openly. Client and collaborator charrettes are inclusive, engaging, and energizing. We believe the best work happens when talented people trust one another, communicate clearly, and feel empowered to contribute.

We primarily work in mountainous regions and communities throughout the Rocky Mountains where environmental sensitivity, rugged beauty, and thoughtful stewardship matter deeply.
