

About Us

When you choose Gladden & Associates to develop an event strategy with you, you receive access to our many years of professional experience in logistics coordination, meeting planning, and large event organization.

G&A will not just accomplish your event goals but will create an outstanding experience for your stakeholders.

Every event has the potential to be great. You are at the edge of unlimited potential.

Let us help you surpass great.

The G&A team provides the perfect balance of industry knowledge, passion, and creativity to help you to avoid common logistical oversights while still creating unique experiences for both you and your event participants.

Check out our portfolio to see images of how we have helped other clients achieve event success!

