

Adventures in short-term rentals #2

Hey, there's a plan for when "somebody throws furniture through a window."

The Zoning & Regulatory Subcommittee has sent the Town Council short-term rental regulations that change residential zoning and let homes be flipped into transient, pay-per-night hotels everywhere.

But town staff did assure some of our Town Councilors that if "somebody throws furniture through a window" (that's a quote) they'd issue a Notice of Violation.

Large parties are cool. One-night rentals are cool. What could happen?

Get involved or get used to it.
