

Adventures in short-term rentals #6

Lives with his parents, vacations with you.

Cash-strapped Millennials live with their parents in record numbers. Over 70% get financial support. They're also the majority of pay-per-night "home" bookings on Airbnb. Stuff friends in, make it short-term enough, and the price is right.

With $1.5 trillion in student debt and a lack of affordable housing, they're not buying homes. So it's mom, dad — and Airbnbs in residential districts.

Do we need an economic answer for them? Yes. But a motel next to you isn't it. Barnstable's Zoning & Regulatory Committee approved regs that allow them everywhere.

Get involved or get used to it.
