This document is a formal placement of work, authorship, and intent on the public record. It does not seek permission, provoke debate, or compel action. It preserves continuity. Those who understand record know its purpose.

Because unrecorded work disappears. Recorded work endures.

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter accompanies and introduces the enclosed Declaration of Record, Status, and Intent, which is issued in connection with the completed and published volume entitled The Completion of the Constitution and Federalist Papers, preserved as a work of constitutional commentary and public record. The referenced volume documents a continuous body of scholarly, constitutional, and historical work addressing access, procedure, institutional silence, restitutionary governance, and the preservation of unresolved constitutional engagement. It includes both interpretive commentary and a curated Appendix of Record preserving primary filings, notices, and documentary materials, presented without editorial alteration and for purposes of historical continuity. This letter and the accompanying declaration are published and preserved through recognized public archival and bibliographic systems, including digital archive repositories and published volumes, to establish authorship, public notice, and continuity of record. They are prepared for future submission and incorporation by reference into the Congressional Record, pursuant to Article I of the Constitution of the United States, 1 U.S.C. § 113, 2 U.S.C. §§ 651–654, and 44 U.S.C. §§ 701–711, through the Office of the Secretary of the Senate and subsequent publication by the Government Publishing Office. Nothing herein asserts present congressional authority, constitutes a treaty, or implies federal recognition. This notice serves solely to memorialize record, position, and intent.

All rights, unalienable rights, remedies, and claims are expressly reserved.

Respectfully submitted,

Rev. Dr. Christina Clement

- Current role: Declared U.S. Senate candidate; public policy advocate
Former role: 2024 Presidential Candidate of US and America
- Background: Legal filings, legislative frameworks, restitution advocacy
- Profile: Nontraditional candidate; policy-driven, record-heavy
- Status meaning: “Filed paperwork” = legally declared via FEC Form 2
- Strengths: Documented record, original policy frameworks, independence
- Weaknesses: Outside party machinery; unconventional approach

2 The Congressional Record This declaration is made with reference to previously filed records, including but not limited to court filings, sworn statements, and archived notices, which establish continuity of position, public notice, and absence of treaty extinguishment.

I have placed my position on the public record, referencing existing filings, asserting non-treaty, pre-existing status, and reserving all unalienable rights. No one can legitimately object to that.

III. Record "This position is supported by previously filed records, lobbying report and public filings."

IV. Notice "This declaration serves as formal notice and intent."

V. Reservation of Rights "Nothing herein waives rights, remedies, or claims."

Declaration of Record, Status, and Intent for Congressional Submission I, Rev. Dr. Christina Clement, hereby declare as follows: I. Capacity This declaration is issued in reference to a continuous body of publicly preserved work, including the published volume The Completion of the Constitution and Federalist Papers (Volume III, Revealed the Kingdom of Locs: Nazirite Vow Continues), and multiple filings entered into the public docket of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in Clement v. Garland, Civil No. 1:24-cv-00479-RC, et al.

These materials include judicial filings, legislative-style proposals, public notices, cultural-heritage frameworks, economic analyses, and political correspondence, all preserved through court records, archival repositories, and published volumes. Collectively, they establish continuity of authorship, public notice, and preservation of constitutional, historical, and political engagement without reliance on subsequent permission, endorsement, or federal recognition. II. Record and Referenced Work This declaration is made with reference to existing public records, filings, research, and authored works previously placed into the public domain, including but not limited to judicial filings, sworn statements, archival publications, and published volumes authored or submitted by the declarant. These records establish continuity of position, authorship, public notice, and preservation of work without reliance on subsequent permission or recognition.

III. Status Asserted Indigenous existence and peoplehood predate treaties; treaties limit or recognize sovereignty but do not create it. No claim herein asserts extinguishment, recognition, or treaty status. This declaration serves solely as a statement of position and record.

IV. Purpose and Notice This declaration is issued as formal notice, preserved in public archival and bibliographic systems, and prepared for future submission and incorporation by reference into the Congressional Record, pursuant to: • Article I, §5, Constitution of the United States • 1 U.S.C. § 113 (Congressional Record authorization) • 2 U.S.C. §§ 651–654 (Office of the Secretary of the Senate; custody and transmission of Senate records) • 44 U.S.C. §§ 701–711 (Government Publishing Office publication and preservation) Submission, if and when made, shall occur through the Office of the Secretary of the Senate, with publication by the Government Publishing Office, and permanent preservation by the National Archives and Records Administration, in the ordinary course of legislative recordkeeping.

V. Reservation of Rights Nothing in this declaration shall be construed as a waiver of rights, remedies, claims, or positions, whether known or unknown, past, present, or future. All rights are expressly reserved.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.
