

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

CHRISTINA CLEMENT and

HH EMPRESS QUEEN CHRISTINA LOCS IS OUR ARTIFACT OF FAITH

Plaintiff,

v.

Attorney General Merrick Garland;

Chief Justice John Roberts Jr.,

Secretary General of the United Nations.

Registrar-Peace Palace Carnegie Pleinz et al in their official capacity

Defendant

Case No. 1:24-cv-00479-RC

PLAINTIFF’S MOTION TO REOPEN CASE AND ENTER DEFAULT JUDGMENT
WITH ALL REQUESTED RELIEF, PURSUANT TO UNREBUTTED FACTS, FINAL
ADMINISTRATIVE DEFAULT, AND MATTERS OF EXCEPTIONAL PUBLIC IMPORTANCE

COMES NOW Plaintiff Rev. Dr. Christina Clement, Trustee, and respectfully moves this Court to reopen the above-captioned matter and enter default judgment in Plaintiff’s favor, granting all requested relief.

This motion is supported not only by newly presented un rebutted adjudicative facts, but also by authoritative filings that frame this case as one of the most significant civil rights enforcement opportunities in modern judicial history. FRCP 60(a) permits the Court to correct or clarify the record to reflect its intended judgment.

FRCP 60(b)(2) permits relief based on newly discovered evidence material to the enforcement of judgment.

Local Civil Rule 7(o) authorizes supplemental authority where it is material and aids the Court.

The NAACP document is:

1. Directly relevant to the constitutional, treaty-based, and statutory violations recognized in plaintiffs motions.
2. Evidentiary reinforcement for execution of all plaintiff relief including monetary and injunctive relief.
3. A historical exhibit that will strengthen the enforceability and public legitimacy of the Court's decision.

I. INTRODUCTION (For the Court Record & Public Interest)

Plaintiff submits this motion as a matter of law and of national record.

The issues presented here are not isolated grievances — they are embedded in the same historical continuum that the NAACP, civil rights litigators, and appellate courts have confronted for over a century:

systemic denial of rights to historically redlined and Indigenous-descended populations, in violation of the U.S. Constitution, federal civil rights statutes, and binding international human rights treaties.

The attached National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Records, NAACP; inclusive dates 1842-2019; Library of Congress Catalog record <https://lccn.loc.gov/mm78034140> filing underscores that this litigation carries exceptional public importance, implicating legal doctrines, historical precedents, and civil protections that have shaped the American promise of equality before the law.

When paired with the unrebutted, fully enacted sovereign judgment of the State of Loc Nation Supreme Court (Exhibit A), the narrative becomes clear and indisputable:

- The law has been served.
- The evidence stands unrebutted.
- Relief is overdue.

II. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

1. This case was duly filed and served upon Defendants pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
2. Defendants failed to answer or otherwise respond within the time allowed by law.

3. Plaintiff now presents unrebutted sovereign judgment (Exhibit A) and nationally significant civil rights authority (Exhibit B) which compel reopening and immediate judgment in favor of the plaintiff.

III. NEWLY FILED AND BINDING AUTHORITY

Exhibit A – Declaration for the Historical Record, SOLN-SC-DHR-2025-003, issued by the State of Loc Nation Supreme Court, confirming sovereign jurisdiction, enacted statutory frameworks, and unrebutted administrative defaults under U.S. Constitutional law, the Uniform Commercial Code, and binding international treaties.

Exhibit B – NAACP filing, affirming the historical and ongoing civil rights relevance of these claims, recognized under the Fourteenth Amendment, 42 U.S.C. §§ 1981, 1983, and 2000d.

IV. LEGAL STANDARD FOR REOPENING

Under Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(2), (3), and (6), the Court may reopen a case upon presentation of newly discovered evidence or extraordinary circumstances.

Both Exhibits A and B qualify as new and material authority and support the entry of default judgment under Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b).

V. RELIEF REQUESTED

Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court:

1. Reopen Case No. 1:24-cv-00479-RC pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b);
2. Take judicial notice of Exhibits A and B under Fed. R. Evid. 201;
3. Enter default judgment for Plaintiff under Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b);
4. Grant all requested relief as set forth in Plaintiff's original complaint and subsequent filings, including but not limited to restitution, injunctive relief, declaratory judgment, and enforcement of the Loc Nation Dollar (LND) tender and debt offset system; and
5. Recognize, as a matter of public interest, that failure to act here would leave undisputed violations of constitutional and civil rights law unremedied, in defiance of both domestic and international legal obligations.

VI. PRESS-READY CONCLUSION

In the interest of both justice and history, Plaintiff asks this Court to acknowledge what the law already compels:

the entry of judgment when the record is complete, the defaults are unrebutted, and the harm is established.

The people of the State of Loc Nation, and all communities similarly situated, await a ruling that honors the Constitution's guarantees and the nation's legacy of civil rights enforcement.

Respectfully submitted,

Rev. Dr. Christina Clement, Trustee

Acquisition Information

The records of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) were given to the Library of Congress by the NAACP in 1964. Supplements were given by the association and others between 1964 and 2023.

Processing History

Part I of the records of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was arranged and described in 1972. When processing began, records were arranged according to date groupings (Group I, 1919-1939; Group II, 1940-1955; Group III, 1956-1965, Group IV: 1966-) and therein by series. Over the years as new material was accessioned it was interfiled into these groups. In 1992 this practice was abandoned. The groups were left intact, but changed to “parts” prior to the processing of Part V. The finding aid published in 1972 describing Part I was significantly revised in 2003. Additions to the collection were arranged and described as separate parts between 1988 and 2008. Revisions were made to Parts II and III in 2008.

Parts I through IX of the records were arranged and described by Joseph K. Brooks, Melinda K. Friend, Margaret McAleer, Michael L. Spangler, and Joseph Sullivan with the assistance of Pedro Alvarez, Deloris Butler, Corinne I. Calfee, Connie Cartledge, Trichita M. Chestnut, Paul Colton, Marah deMeule, Pat Doyle, Donna M. Ellis, Nan Thompson Ernst, Angela I. Fritz, Steven G. Fullwood, Alys S. Glaze, Leonard Hawley, Harry G. Heiss, Julie Hunsaker, Laura J. Kells, Patrick M. Kerwin, Steve Larsen, Daniel Lewis, Lisa Madison, Sherralyn McCoy, Brian McGuire, Renée D. McKinney, John R. Monagle, Susie Moody, Sarah Morris, William Parham, Jewel R. Parker, Andrew M. Passett, Christopher A. Peters, Sheri Shepherd, Karen M. Spicher, Marjorie Torney, Pamela Watkins, Tywanna M. Whorley, Lena Wiley, and T. Michael Womack.

Part X of the records were arranged and described in 2023 by Mike Folkerts and Nate Scheible with the assistance of Thomas Bigley, Jake Bozza, Andrea Briggs, Jeffery R. Bryson, Chad Conrady, Queenie Don, Katie Duvall, Maria Farmer, Emily Flint, Chanté Flowers, Colleen Benoit Kim, Elizabeth Livesey, Shandra Morehouse, Kathleen O'Neill, Kimberly Owens, Emilia Schrier, Tammi Taylor, and Rachel Telford.

Digital files were received as part of the NAACP Records on a variety of storage media, each of which was assigned a unique digital ID number. Use the digital ID number to request access copies of the files associated with each media. A description of the standard processes taken on all born digital records can be found in the Processing History Note: Born Digital Collection Material at <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mss/eadmss.digital>. To recover the data from some optical disks, disk images of these media were created and the files were exported from the disk image. Staff also created disk images of media that were damaged or corrupt and extracted the files from the images. Disk images are retained for preservation purposes and are not available to researchers. Additionally, files for which software was not available were emulated in DOSBox or accessed in the document viewer Quick View Plus to be appraised.

Microfilm from accessions 16,090 and 16,302 has not been integrated into the finding aid. The contents filmed have been retained within the physical folders in the collection and are accessible to researchers.

Some items in the NAACP records have undergone mold remediation.

Additional Description

The records of the NAACP are featured and described in a Library of Congress online exhibition, NAACP: A Century in the Fight for Freedom at <https://www.loc.gov/exhibits/naACP/index.html>. Further description is also available in the following research guide: <https://guides.loc.gov/naACP>.

Transfers

Items have been transferred from the Manuscript Division to other custodial divisions of the Library. Some photographs, broadsides, and posters have been transferred to the Prints and Photographs Division; an inventory of this material is available in their finding aid at <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.pnp/eadpnp.pp996001>. Audio and video recordings have been transferred to the National Audio-Visual Conservation Center. Some maps have been transferred to the Geography and Map Division; an inventory of this material is available in their finding aid available at <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.gmd/eadgmd.gm021008>. Some sheet music has been transferred to the Music Division. Some newsletters, newspapers, and other periodicals have been transferred to the Serial and Government Publications Division. Some books have been transferred to the Rare Book and Special Collections Division and the Library's general collections. All transfers are identified in these divisions as part of the records of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Patrons are encouraged to contact these divisions in advance of a research visit.

Other Repositories

Given the size and reach of the NAACP, many repositories across the United States house collections related to the NAACP, especially those of local branch chapters and personal papers of notable staff and board members. One of the largest of these collections is the NAACP Region I Records at the Bancroft Library of the University of California, Berkeley.

Related Material

The most notable related collections in the Manuscript Division include the records of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund (see <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mss/eadmss.ms015025>), and the papers of Herbert Hill (see <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mss/eadmss.ms013130>), Arthur B. Spingarn (see <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mss/eadmss.ms997006>), and Roy Wilkins (see <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mss/eadmss.ms002001>).

Copyright Status

The status of copyright in the unpublished writings of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is governed by the Copyright Law of the United States (Title 17, U.S.C.).

Access and Restrictions

Restrictions apply governing the use, photoduplication, or publication of items in this collection. Consult reference staff in the Manuscript Division for information concerning these restrictions. In addition, many collections are stored off-site and advance notice is needed to retrieve these items for research use. Access to digital content is available onsite only in the Manuscript Reading Room and requires advanced notice. Researchers are advised to contact the Manuscript Reading Room prior to visiting.

National Security Classified Information

Government regulations control the use of national security classified items in this collection. Manuscript Division staff can furnish information concerning access to and use of classified material.

Technical Requirements

Digital files were created in a variety of operating systems. The content is primarily text files in .doc, .txt, and .pdf formats, image files in .jpg, .gif, and .tif formats, audio files in .wav and .mp3 formats, video files in .vob and .mpg formats, databases in .db and .mdb formats, and spreadsheets in .xls format.

At the time of processing some text file formats were inaccessible through available software. As a result, these raw versions of the files do not appear as intended in their original hardware and software environments, and often include altered formatting and extraneous characters. Files can be opened with a text editor or with a file viewer tool. Some files require emulation in a DOS environment. This is noted within the container list.

Two computer tapes received with this collection are currently unprocessed due to lack of required hardware and not available for research.

Microfilm

A microfilm edition of part of these papers is available on forty-one reels. Consult reference staff in the Manuscript Division concerning availability for purchase and interlibrary loan. To promote preservation of the originals, researchers are required to consult the microfilm edition.

Online Content

Selected documents from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) Records are available on the Library of Congress website at <https://hdl.loc.gov/loc/mss/eadmss.ms008007.001>.

Scope and Content Note

The records of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) span the years 1842-2019, with the bulk of material dating from 1919 to 2004. The collection traces the history of the nation's oldest civil rights organization from its founding in 1909 into the twenty-first century.

The collection is arranged in ten parts, six of which have a chronological focus. The bulk of Part I covers 1919-1939; Part II dates primarily from 1940 to 1955; Part III is concentrated in the period 1956-1965; Parts IV and VI document the years 1966-1978; and the bulk of Part VIII dates from 1978 to 1991. Three parts contain the records of a particular department or contractor. Part V encompasses the records of the NAACP Legal Department, principally from 1966 to 1995. Part VII consists of the records of the Gilbert Jonas Company, a public relations firm engaged by the NAACP to raise funds. Part IX contains the files of the association's Washington Bureau that served as a liaison between the NAACP and the United States Congress and monitored government agencies administering federal regulations and programs. Part X does not adhere to either focus. Chronologically, many files in this part pick up where Part VIII leaves off, with material dating mostly from the period 1991 to 2010. Part X, however, also comprises older material that documents a range of programs and departments dating from the 1960s through the 1980s. In many instances, these files expand upon the activities of the NAACP documented in Parts IV-IX.

The records are largely arranged as originally organized by the NAACP in its offices. Although their organizational formats may vary as a result, the parts often contain similar types of material. The records include Board of Directors files, annual convention files, general office files, branch files, and legal case files.

Board of Directors files include correspondence, memoranda, minutes, reports, and committee records documenting the board's role in setting policy, amending the association's constitution, appointing national officers, authorizing large allocations of funds, approving the formation of branches, adjudicating branch disputes, and setting litigation and lobbying goals. The board's debates and decisions are recorded in minutes of its monthly meetings supplemented by reports submitted by the association's executive secretary or director, general counsel, treasurer, branch directors, and department heads. Committee files reflect the board's work regarding awards and scholarships, branches, budgets, conventions, departmental programs, elections, litigation, membership, personnel, policies, resolutions, public relations, youth work, and other topics of concern to the association. Annual convention files contain speeches, session minutes, programs, delegate lists, press releases and other publicity material, and material related to award ceremonies, memorial services, staff assignments, security arrangements, and workshops. The files highlight the annual convention's role as a forum for passing resolutions that guided NAACP policy, an opportunity for local and national NAACP leaders to interact, and a public relations event. The Board of Directors and annual convention files are organized as separate series in Part I. In Part II, they are included in the General Office File series. In Parts III, IV, VI, VIII, and X they form part of the Administrative File series.

Most parts include a general office file that documents the work of the NAACP's national staff, especially the executive secretary or director who oversaw the day-to-day operation of the national office and served as the principal spokesperson for the organization. Featured are correspondence, memoranda, reports, travel files, speeches, and writings of James Weldon Johnson from 1920 to 1931, Walter Francis White from 1931 to 1955, Roy Wilkins from 1955 to 1977, Benjamin L. Hooks from 1977 to 1993, Ben Chavis from 1993 to 1994, and Kweisi Mfume from 1996 to 2002. Similar types of material are also included for other national officers and key staff members including deputy executive secretaries or directors, Crisis magazine editors, and department heads. The general office file documents the broad range of civil rights activities administered by the national staff concerning economic development and opportunity, education and training, health, housing, labor, and military and veterans affairs. Material related to this work and the NAACP's collaboration with other organizations is filed by topic, name of organization, or by the name of the relevant NAACP department. Departmental or programmatic records that are particularly voluminous have been organized as separate series. This is the case in Parts II, III, VI, and X for the Washington Bureau, Labor Department, Training Department, Gilbert Jonas Company, and records related to armed services and veterans affairs, voter education, and finances. Also located in the general office file is material relating to administrative matters including the association's constitution and bylaws, annual reports, organizational histories, events, fundraising, personnel, public relations, and training. In lieu of a general office file, Part I includes a subject file within the Administrative File series. Part II contains a general office file organized as a separate series. In Parts III, IV, VI, and VIII, the file is a subseries in the Administrative File series. In Part X, the file is a subseries in the Administrative File and integrated into other series by topic or department.

Branch files documenting activities of local NAACP branches, state conferences, and regional offices consist largely of communications between the national office and local, state, and regional offices retained by the national office. They do not include records retained in the local offices. Correspondence, memoranda, reports, programs, complaints, award submissions, and newsletters sent to the national office provide information about branch formation and reorganization, elections, internal disputes, membership drives, fundraising campaigns, meetings, conferences, training, and local civil rights activities and programs. Reports and memoranda of field secretaries, field directors, and regional directors are particularly useful in tracing the progress of civil rights on the local level.

The collection's extensive legal files document the NAACP's efforts to end racial discrimination and segregation through federal and state courts. Included are affidavits, briefs, correspondence, depositions, exhibits, interrogatories, lawyer's notes, petitions, summaries, and trial transcripts representing the NAACP's litigation efforts from its first case defending Pink Franklin in 1910 to Brown v. Board of Education in 1954 and the Regents of the University of California v. Bakke decision in 1978. Until 1956, the NAACP's legal activities were carried out by its Legal Defense Fund. The fund's files are organized as Legal File series in Parts I and II. In 1956 the Legal Defense Fund separated from the association to preserve the NAACP's tax-exempt status and was recreated as an independent entity called the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund. Part III contains its records as a separate series. The NAACP continued to pursue litigation through its own Legal Department, however, and its records from the mid-1960s through 1995 constitute Part V of the collection. Additional case files from this period dating to 2000 can be found in Parts VIII and X.

Part I

Part I spans the years 1909-1941, with the bulk of material dating from 1919 to 1939. Part I is arranged in nine series: Board of Directors File, Annual Conferences, Administrative File, Legal File, Youth File, Crisis File, Branch Files, Addition, and Oversize. The NAACP's founding and early development is documented through board of directors' minutes and reports, annual conference files, and the correspondence, memoranda, office diaries, speeches, and writings of its founders and early officers including W. E. B. Du Bois, Charles Hamilton Houston, Addie W. Hunton, James Weldon Johnson, Daisy E. Lampkin, Thurgood Marshall, E. Frederic Morrow, Mary White Ovington, William Pickens, John R. Shillady, Arthur B. and Joel Elias Spingarn, Moorfield Storey, Oswald Garrison Villard, and Walter Francis White.

In addition to documenting the association's founding and organizational development, Part I traces the evolution of the NAACP's earliest public campaigns to end racial discrimination and violence against African Americans. The association's antilynching campaign was prominent among these first efforts. Included are files on antilynching legislation, conferences, meetings, statements, fund-raising campaigns, the Silent Protest Parade of 1917, and extensive background files on lynching practices, including published and unpublished studies, statistics, clippings, and a geographical file. A flag flown at the NAACP headquarters following reported lynchings accompanies the collection. Part I's chronological scope encompasses World War I in files documenting discrimination experienced by African-American soldiers and “work or fight” laws passed by several states during the war. Labor issues also figure prominently in Part I including the NAACP's opposition to racial segregation in federal agencies, discriminatory hiring practices in public works projects such as the Hoover Dam and Tennessee Valley Authority, labor abuses in the Mississippi Flood Control Project, and the discriminatory practices of labor unions.

Other topics covered in Part I include interracial marriage, Haiti, peonage, the film Birth of a Nation, the nomination of John J. Parker to the Supreme Court, William E. Borah's presidential candidacy, the re-emergence of the Ku Klux Klan, the Amenia Conferences, and the NAACP's support of the Scottsboro defendants and members of the 24th Infantry. The Legal File series documents the association's earliest forays into the courtroom. Included are files documenting the NAACP's defense of George Crawford, Pink Franklin, and Ossian Sweet, a case argued by Clarence Darrow. Other case files document the association's legal attacks on restrictive residential covenants, particularly in Washington, D.C.; its defense of voting rights, most notably in Nixon v. Herndon; and its demand for equal pay for African-American teachers and equal access to education for African-American students, a right argued in Lloyd Gaines's lawsuit against the University of Missouri Law School. The subject file contains material relating to the American Fund for Public Service's funding of many of the association's early education cases.

Part II

Part II spans the years 1910-1955, with the bulk of the material dating from 1940 to 1955. It is organized in thirteen series: General Office File, Legal File, Branch File, Financial File, Youth File, Crisis File, Veterans Affairs File, Washington Bureau File, Scrapbooks, Miscellany, Printed Matter, Addition, and Oversize. Documented in Part II are the NAACP's efforts during World War II to end segregation and racial discrimination in defense industries and to combat violence, segregation, and discrimination experienced by African Americans in military service. Files relate to the NAACP's lobbying for a nondiscriminatory selective service system, its advocacy of equal access to housing and recreational facilities, and its defense of court-martialed servicemen and women, including those involved in the Port Chicago, California, mutiny. Investigations into the military experience of African Americans by Jean Byers and Walter Francis White are also included. Staff files in the General Office File series contain White's notes from his tour of the European and Pacific theaters of operation in 1944 and 1945.

Files dating from the postwar years document the NAACP's lobbying of the Harry S. Truman administration and Congress in behalf of an omnibus civil rights bill; an end to discrimination in healthcare, housing, transportation, and veterans' programs; and the eradication of lynching, poll taxes, and restrictive residential covenants. Records relating to the National Civil Rights Mobilization campaign in 1950 are filed under “Civil rights mobilization” in the general office file. The Legal File series documents the NAACP's ongoing legal efforts to end discrimination in higher education. Relevant cases include Gaines v. University of Missouri, Sipuel v. University of Oklahoma, McLauren v. University of Missouri, and Sweatt v. Painter. Also included are case files from the association's primary and secondary school cases. Files pertaining to the Brown v. Board of Education case of 1954 include notes, briefs, depositions, background information, medical and psychological reports, and records of associated cases.

Other topics covered in Part II include the March on Washington movement, the Committee on Fair Employment Practices, wartime riots, NAACP responses to allegations of communist influence, the Fight for Freedom fund-raising campaign, police brutality, and racial stereotyping in film, television, and radio.

Part III

Part III spans the years 1909-1965, with the bulk of the material dating from 1956 to 1965. The records are arranged in ten series: Administrative File, Branch File, Financial File, Youth File, Crisis File, Washington Bureau, Miscellany, Printed Matter, NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, and Oversize. Part III relates to the NAACP's continuing efforts to secure equal access to employment, healthcare, housing, recreational facilities, transportation, and voting rights; its ongoing legal struggle to end school segregation; and its extensive lobbying for civil rights legislation. The records document an expanding civil rights movement that included the proliferation of sit-in protests, the March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom, Freedom Riders, and the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party.

The Administrative File series details the NAACP's participation in or support of these movements as well as its response to leadership challenges from other organizations including the Congress of Racial Equality, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Reports and correspondence in both the Branch File and the Youth File series concern the progress of civil rights and the development of tactics used to end discrimination on the local level. Material relating to the murder of Mississippi field secretary, Medgar Wiley Evers, in 1964 can be found in the Administrative File. The association's increased fund-raising activities during this period are highlighted in files relating to the establishment of the NAACP Special Contribution Fund and the 1964 fund-raising telethon, "Freedom Television Spectacular."

Part IV

Spanning the years 1965-1975, Part IV is organized in six series: Administrative File, Branch File, Youth File, Miscellany, Printed Matter, and Oversize. The late 1960s and 1970s are more extensively documented in Part VI received by the Library of Congress after Parts IV and V had been arranged and described.

Part IV documents the broadening of the NAACP's strategy beyond its traditional reliance on litigation and lobbying to include the creation of greater numbers of community-based programs. The general office file in the Administrative File series includes material on housing programs, labor activities, the Mississippi Emergency Relief Program created in 1967 to alleviate hunger in Mississippi's poorest districts, the Pupil Incentive Program, and the Register and Vote Campaign. These and other programs are more thoroughly documented in departmental records in Part VI. Other topics covered in Part IV include Africa, civil rights, the Black Power movement, federal and state agencies and programs, the Supreme Court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth, Adam Clayton Powell's expulsion from the United States House of Representatives, urban riots, Vietnam, and the slaying of Martin Luther King Jr. Material concerning the NAACP's relationship with other civil rights organizations is filed under "Leagues and organizations" in the general office file.

Part V

Part V consists of records of the NAACP Legal Department and spans the years 1842-1997, with the bulk of the material dating from 1966 to 1995. Part V is arranged in three series: Legal Department (with subseries Case File and General Office File), Classified, and Oversize. Supplemental legal files from this period are contained in Part VIII. The Case File in Part V demonstrates the scope of the NAACP's litigation from the 1960s to the 1990s, focusing in particular on school desegregation in the North and combating job discrimination. Among school desegregation cases featured in the collection are Bradley v. Milliken, Reed v. Rhodes, Berry v. School District, Liddell v. Board of Education, Board of School Directors v. Wisconsin, and the Boston de facto school segregation case that led to court-ordered busing in 1974. The main employment cases include Ogletree v. McNamara, Cox v. Consolidated Rail Corp., and the Eglin Air Force Base cases.

Other noteworthy cases include NAACP v. Alabama involving the right of the NAACP to operate in that state; Jackson, Mississippi, demonstration cases; Texas Southern University riot law cases; Regents of the University of California v. Bakke and Weber v. Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. reverse discrimination cases; Federal Communications Commission minority broadcasting cases; Geter/Williams wrongful conviction cases; and NAACP Special Contribution Fund v. Atkins, the association's suit against some of its former salaried lawyers over legal fees. The Claiborne Hardware Co. v. NAACP damage suit, a case from Port Gibson, Mississippi, necessitated the posting of a $1.5 million dollar cash bond by the NAACP within thirty days in order to appeal the 1976 decision.

The General Office File includes name and subject files compiled by the Legal Department from information that arrived daily in the office for use in preparing cases or tracking issues of possible future interest. Located under the heading of "Reports" are periodic summaries submitted by the general counsel, the Legal Department, and other members of the legal staff. Requests for legal assistance in the files were usually written to the Legal Department either by imprisoned African Americans or by their relatives. The department denied a majority of these requests, especially those involving criminal cases. Of these voluminous files, only those containing the largest number of surnames, H, J, and W, have been retained. Similar requests for assistance, however, can also be found in the staff file. Staff files document the dismissal of Lewis M. Steel in 1968 and subsequent resignations in support of him by the other attorneys on staff.

Part VI

Part VI spans the years 1884-1992, with the bulk of material dating from 1967 to 1978. It is organized in eleven series: Administrative File, Armed Services and Veterans Affairs, Branch Department, Education Department, Fund-Raising Department, Housing Department, Labor Department, Training Department, Voter Education Project, Miscellany, and Oversize. See also Part IV for additional files related to the NAACP's activities during the late 1960s and 1970s.

Departmental records in Part VI document the establishment of a number of NAACP-sponsored community-based programs. Included in the Housing Department series are files relating to the National Afro-American Builders Corporation which assisted minority builders in securing bonds and contracts; the NAACP National Housing Development Corporation which funded nonprofit low and moderate-income housing projects; the establishment of NAACP daycare centers; and the NAACP Equal Opportunity Tour of European Industrialized Building Systems. The Fund-Raising Department series contains records from the Mississippi Emergency Relief Program and the “Freedom Television Spectacular” telethon. Summer programs in Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana are documented in the Training Department series. Other topics include the NAACP Image Awards, ghettos, urban riots, the Supreme Court nominations of Clement F. Haynsworth and G. Harrold Carswell, voter registration campaigns, the founding of NAACP prison branches, and Claiborne Hardware Co v. NAACP, the Mississippi case that threatened to bankrupt the association. The Miscellany series contains early NAACP pamphlets on the lynching of women and segregation in rail travel and an 1884 scrapbook on Civil War figures and African Americans in post-Reconstruction America.

Part VII

Part VII contains the records of the Gilbert Jonas Company, a public relations firm that the association engaged for thirty years to raise funds through direct mail campaigns and other means. Part VII spans the years 1964-1995 and is arranged in the Gilbert Jonas Company and Oversize series.

Files documenting the company's fund-raising activities for the NAACP include annual reports, benefit events, direct mail campaigns, financial records, general correspondence, memoranda, and material relating to the NAACP Special Contribution Fund. The company also vetted the financial feasibility and soundness of the organization's national programs, an oversight function documented in annual reports, general correspondence, financial records, memoranda, and files related to specific programs, divisions, and departments, such as Back to School/Stay in School, the NAACP Program Division, and the NAACP Legal Department. Major fund-raising activities included benefits, charitable foundation and corporate solicitations, and direct mail campaigns directed at NAACP members and the general public.

Part VIII

Part VIII spans the years 1867-1999, with the bulk of the material dating from 1978 to 1991. It is arranged in three series: Administrative File, Legal Department File, and Oversize. Files documenting the NAACP's leadership in reevaluating the direction of the civil rights movement in the late 1970s and 1980s include material from several prominent conferences and meetings, such as the NAACP Leadership Summit Conference held in Chicago in 1978, the Black Leadership Meeting held in New York in 1980, the NAACP Emergency Summit held in Washington, D.C., in 1985, and the NAACP Conference on the Present Crisis held in Washington, D.C., in 1989. The NAACP's reassessment of its programs and policies is reflected in long-range planning documents located in the Administrative File's general office file.

The NAACP also undertook additional programs during this period, some of which moved beyond the traditional focus of civil rights organizations. Part VIII documents the Board of Directors' controversial decision to develop an energy policy. The general office file includes records related to the NAACP National Conference on Energy, held in Washington, D.C., in 1977. Many of the association's newer programs focused on the need to increase minority economic opportunity. The Economic Policy Advisory Council and Economic Development Department oversaw various programs, including Black Dollar Days, Operation Fair Share, and minority business support programs. The NAACP published a number of studies including reports on the recording industry and the film and television industries.

Education initiatives pursued by the NAACP and documented in the general office file include Afro-Academic Cultural Technological Scientific Olympics (ACT-SO), Back-to-School/Stay-in-School, the NAACP Bakke Symposium, and NAACP Personal Incentive Programs. Health programs include the organization of health fairs and mobile health units.

Other topics covered in Part VIII include affirmative action, Andrew Young's resignation from the United Nations, Atlanta child murders, Black-Jewish relations, busing, church reparations, criminal justice, Jesse Jackson's presidential candidacy, the Supreme Court nominations of Robert H. Bork and Clarence Thomas, the tobacco industry, urban ghettos, relocation of NAACP headquarters to Baltimore, Maryland, and the conflict between executive director Benjamin L. Hooks and board chair Margaret Bush Wilson which resulted in Hooks's suspension in 1983.

Part VIII includes material dated considerably before 1978, much of it printed matter, discovered when NAACP's national offices moved to Baltimore in 1986. Of particular note are Walter Francis White's correspondence, interviews, speeches, testimony, and writings.

Part IX

Part IX includes records of the Washington Bureau spanning the years 1914-1993, with the bulk of the material concentrated between 1950 and 1991. The records document the function of the bureau as a liaison between the NAACP and Congress. As the association's representative in Washington, the bureau assumed responsibility for tracking and influencing federal legislation, monitoring government agencies administering federal regulations and programs, testifying before Congress, and working with other organizations with similar objectives. The records are arranged as a single series, Washington Bureau, and thereunder in ten subseries. Clarence M. Mitchell's directorship from 1950 to 1978 is documented in the General Office File. Althea T. L. Simmons's directorship from 1979 to 1990 is covered in the remaining nine subseries: General Correspondence, Congressional File, Government Agencies, Counsel, Legislative Mobilization, Conferences, Organizations File, Subject File, and National Offices.

Part X

Part X spans the years 1911-2019, with the bulk of the material dating from 1960 to 2010. It is arranged into twenty series: Administrative File, Armed Services and Veterans Affairs, Branch Department, Crisis File, Economic Development Programs, Education Department and Programs, Financial File, Gilbert Jonas Company, Labor Department, Legal Department, Mississippi Papers, Program Division, Public Relations Department, Region II, Region V, Training Department, Voter Education and Empowerment, Washington Bureau, Restricted, and Oversize. A fuller description of each series and a list of its contents can be accessed in the series descriptions within the container list.

The files in Part X represent many eras of the association. Files from the 1960s and 1970s are noteworthy for the emphasis on activities at the branch level, especially in Mississippi and other southern states from Region V, including the work of Medgar Wiley Evers, Charles Evers, and Ruby Hurley. Records from the 1970s and 1980s expand upon programs represented in earlier parts of the collection that address economic reciprocity for African Americans, health and wellness issues, education initiatives, and energy policy. They also document issues that come to the fore in the 1990s, including a renewed focus on voter empowerment, police brutality, and the environment.

Part X documents the challenges the association faced in the 1990s, including the transition from long-standing executive director Benjamin L. Hooks to Ben Chavis. Controversies surrounding Chavis's brief tenure are represented, including his firing by the Board of Directors in 1994. Part X also documents the NAACP's financial crisis of the mid-1990s that led to significant budget cuts, the release of many staff, and a reshaping of the association's organizational structure. Also represented is the termination of the NAACP's contract with Gilbert Jonas Company and subsequent fundraising oversight by the Development Department.

Files from the 2000s are less complete in their scope but are noteworthy for the documentation of the NAACP centennial celebration, including increased fundraising campaigns, events, and publications. There is very little documentation of Kweisi Mfume's later years in office and Ben Jealous's tenure as executive director. No files belonging to Bruce Gordon or executive directors after Jealous exist in this part. Individuals whose activities are well represented in multiple roles within the association include Althea T. L. Simmons, Mildred Bond Roxborough, Clarence M. Mitchell Jr., Samuel D. Wright, John J. Johnson, Herbert Hill, Earl T. Shinhoster, William Penn, and Dennis Courtland Hayes.

Correspondence primarily details discrimination complaints and the department's relationships with other organizations with interests in equal employment and fair employment advocacy. In many instances, annual and quarterly reports prepared by the department's directors are included within correspondence, though some are filed under "activity reports." Additional topics in the series include job readiness and youth employment.

Material types include correspondence, memoranda, case files, complaints, handbooks, reports, news clippings, and printed matter.

Arranged alphabetically by subject or type of material. The correspondence is arranged alphabetically by director and chronologically therein, except for an alphabetical file, which is arranged alphabetically by topic. This file represents correspondence primarily sent and received by Herbert Hill and was maintained as received.

Material types include correspondence, memoranda, news clippings, notes, proposals, contracts, reports, complaints, and photographs.
Arranged alphabetically by state or regional conference and thereunder by branch chapter.

BOX X:1102-1215

Case File, 1968-2002

The Case File subseries documents cases mostly involving racial discrimination and segregation in which the NAACP was involved as a plaintiff, defendant, amicus curiae, or other party providing direct legal support. The bulk of the files date from the 1990s and include correspondence, court documents, and background or supplemental material related to cases. Noteworthy cases include Bradley v. Milliken, NAACP v. NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Stansel v. Chavis, and suits involving Perkins Family Restaurant, police departments in New Jersey, Eglin Air Force Base, and school districts across the country.

General Office File, 1961-2001

The General Office File documents the ongoing work of the Legal Department, mostly through subject files compiled for use in preparing cases, background research on issues of possible future interest, and documentation of the department's function as in-house counsel. Notable among the files are those relating to voter empowerment activities and the association's response to reports of voting irregularities during the 2000 presidential election, Continuing Legal Education (CLE) seminars, diversity in media, property and leases, and school desegregation. Also significant within this subseries are requests for legal aid, referred to as "citizen mail" by the department. Of these voluminous files, mostly related to discrimination cases, only those containing surnames beginning with H, J, and W have been retained as a representative sample. The General Office File shares much of the same material as the Staff Files in this series.

Material types include correspondence, memoranda, reports, meeting minutes, printed matter, and notes.

Arranged alphabetically by subject, name of person, or type of material, and chronologically therein.

BOX X:1379-1461

Staff Files, 1927-1999

The Staff Files document the work of general counsels Thomas Atkins, Grover G. Hankins, Dennis Courtland Hayes, and Nathaniel R. Jones, several associate general counsels, and other staff members, including Willie Abrams and Curtis E. Rodgers, and share many characteristics of files in the General Office File subseries. Notable among the files is material documenting school desegregation efforts, research relating to cases of employment discrimination in the public and private sectors, and representation of African Americans in the media. The files of Curtis E. Rodgers include material related to his tenure as director of the Economic Development Department from 1979 to 1980.

Part X: Mississippi Papers, 1940-1999

The Mississippi Papers reflect the history of the civil rights movement in Mississippi primarily from 1963 to 1978, covering major civil rights events, issues, and topics, including the Jackson Movement and the death and legacy of Mississippi field director Medgar Wiley Evers. The series largely comprises the files of field directors Charles Evers, Emmett C. Burns, Alex Waites, and Robert Walker, as well as Mississippi State Conference president Aaron E. Henry. Some personal files relate to his political career as a member of the Mississippi House of Representatives. In the 1990s, the NAACP's Henry Lee Moon Library received a project grant to process, catalog, and digitize this group of material, which they termed the "Mississippi Papers." Only a small amount of work was completed before the grant expired and the project was abandoned. As a result, the documents were received in a state of disarray with many removed from their original context. Attempts were made to restore this context, but there is significant crossover among the files. The digitization project also accounts for the individual code stickers on each document. A file on the Mississippi Papers imaging project in the Part X: Administrative File series provides further background on the project.

Material types include correspondence, memoranda, reports, meeting minutes, affidavits, news clippings, financial material, and printed matter.

Arranged alphabetically by subject, name, or type of material.

BOX X:1526-1552

Material regarding drafts of speeches and media statements for Benjamin L. Hooks can be found in this series, with more material located in the Part X: Administrative File.

Material types include memoranda, press releases, newsletters, news clippings, and printed matter. Television advertisements are in digital format.

Rivers III (1994-1999) and Charles White (1999-2006). A small amount of material documenting the work of regional director Francys Johnson is also included. General Office File, 1911-2019

The General Office File documents the broad range of activities administered by the national staff concerning energy policy, international affairs, religious affairs, health, housing, and fundraising, and is focused mostly between 1977 and 2009. The subseries features correspondence, speeches, writings, biographical information, and other files of executive director Roy Wilkins and chief executive officers Benjamin L. Hooks, Ben Chavis, Kweisi Mfume, and Ben Jealous, as well as various executive secretaries and assistants. The subseries includes documentation of events, including conferences, summits, and the NAACP Image Awards. Records featuring celebrations include various anniversaries, mostly notably the NAACP centennial in 2009. Many files relate to the annual Spingarn Medal, including event ceremonies and award committee meetings. Other administrative matters represented include the association's constitution and bylaws, organizational histories, strategic planning, staff meetings, and personnel issues. The subseries also includes a range of NAACP publications and printed matter, including annual reports, handbooks, manuals, brochures, and pamphlets.

Material types include correspondence, memoranda, press releases, spreadsheets, speeches, news clippings, awards, event programs, contracts, notes, petitions, forms, directories, photographs, proposals, reports, minutes, resolutions, manuals, handbooks, interviews, and printed matter. Some textual and visual material, as well as audio and video material are in digital formats.

Arranged alphabetically by subject, name of person, or type of material. The file structure of the digital content maintained as received.

Aside from general administration, the Branch Department was also responsible for annual membership and life membership recruitment, prisoner membership through the Prison Program, and youth membership through its Youth and College Division. Arranged into seven subseries.
BOX X:284-345	General Office File, 1949-2006 The General Office File spans 1949 to 2006 and consists primarily of the subject files of Gloster B. Current and William Penn, directors of the Branch Department during the majority of that period. Notable records include material related to the NAACP Image Awards, a branch officers study, the organizing of marches in Washington, D.C. and Boston, and the restructuring of multiple branches within major metropolitan areas, including Houston and Philadelphia. Items related to the fundraising efforts following the court ruling and subsequent appeal of Claiborne Hardware Company v. NAACP can be found within the Mississippi crisis file. Material types include correspondence, memoranda, reports, meeting minutes, news clippings, and printed matter. A membership database is in digital format. Other files relate to workshops and programs held at various NAACP national, regional, and state conferences. Notable among the records are research files and correspondence between Shagaloff and Thurgood Marshall in the years before and immediately after Brown v. Board of Education. Material types include reports, memoranda, meeting minutes, speeches, correspondence, newsletters, news clippings, notes, conference programs, photographs, and printed matter. BOX X:863-979	Part X: Financial File, 1911-2011 The Financial File documents the finances of the NAACP, NAACP Special Contribution Fund, and Crisis magazine through annual budgets, audit reports, examinations of accounts, and balance sheets. The bulk of the series dates from 1960 to 1990 and is primarily composed of files from chief accountants, comptrollers, and controllers, including Richard W. McClain, Milton Turner, Harry Maragh, and Hinton King. The series documents contributions, grants, and fundraising efforts related to programs associated with the NAACP Special Contribution Fund, including the Emergency Relief Fund, Positive Program for Boston, and the Mississippi appeal of 1976 in the wake of the Claiborne Hardware Company v. NAACP decision. The finances of individual branches are represented mostly through year-end treasury reports, branch tax documents, and branch audits. Additional financial documentation is scattered throughout Part X, most notably in the Part X: Gilbert Jonas Company series and the NAACP Special Contribution Fund subseries within the Part X: Administrative File series. Material types include budgets, financial statements, tax documents, reports, examinations of accounts, audits, correspondence, meeting minutes, agendas, memoranda, and ledgers. Arranged alphabetically by subject, name of person, or type of material, and thereunder chronologically.

BOX X:1015-1054	Part X: Labor Department, 1965-2005 The Labor Department series documents the organization, leadership, and functions of the Labor Department, especially in relation to equal employment opportunity issues. The bulk of the series dates from 1968 to 1988 and comprises the files of department directors Herbert Hill, Lewis J. Carter III, Samuel D. Wright, and Joann C. Riggs. Correspondence primarily details discrimination complaints and the department's relationships with other organizations with interests in equal employment and fair employment advocacy. In many instances, annual and quarterly reports prepared by the department's directors are included within correspondence, though some are filed under "activity reports." Additional topics in the series include job readiness and youth employment. Material types include correspondence, memoranda, case files, complaints, handbooks, reports, news clippings, and printed matter. Arranged alphabetically by subject or type of material. The correspondence is arranged alphabetically by director and chronologically therein, except for an alphabetical file, which is arranged alphabetically by topic. This file represents correspondence primarily sent and received by Herbert Hill and was maintained as received.

BOX X:1246-1379	General Office File, 1961-2001 The General Office File documents the ongoing work of the Legal Department, mostly through subject files compiled for use in preparing cases, background research on issues of possible future interest, and documentation of the department's function as in-house counsel. Notable among the files are those relating to voter empowerment activities and the association's response to reports of voting irregularities during the 2000 presidential election, Continuing Legal Education (CLE) seminars, diversity in media, property and leases, and school desegregation. Also significant within this subseries are requests for legal aid, referred to as "citizen mail" by the department. Of these voluminous files, mostly related to discrimination cases, only those containing surnames beginning with H, J, and W have been retained as a representative sample. The General Office File shares much of the same material as the Staff Files in this series. Material types include correspondence, memoranda, reports, meeting minutes, printed matter, and notes. Arranged alphabetically by subject, name of person, or type of material, and chronologically therein.

BOX X:1461-1526	Part X: Mississippi Papers, 1940-1999

The Mississippi Papers reflect the history of the civil rights movement in Mississippi primarily from 1963 to 1978, covering major civil rights events, issues, and topics, including the Jackson Movement and the death and legacy of Mississippi field director Medgar Wiley Evers. The series largely comprises the files of field directors Charles Evers, Emmett C. Burns, Alex Waites, and Robert Walker, as well as Mississippi State Conference president Aaron E. Henry. Some personal files relate to his political career as a member of the Mississippi House of Representatives. In the 1990s, the NAACP's Henry Lee Moon Library received a project grant to process, catalog, and digitize this group of material, which they termed the "Mississippi Papers." Only a small amount of work was completed before the grant expired and the project was abandoned. As a result, the documents were received in a state of disarray with many removed from their original context. Attempts were made to restore this context, but there is significant crossover among the files. The digitization project also accounts for the individual code stickers on each document. A file on the Mississippi Papers imaging project in the Part X: Administrative File series provides further background on the project.

Material types include correspondence, memoranda, reports, meeting minutes, affidavits, news clippings, financial material, and printed matter.

Arranged alphabetically by subject, name, or type of material.

BOX X:1619-1778	Part X: Region II, 1964-2009 The Region II series documents the activities of the Northeast regional office of the NAACP, which oversaw the branch chapters and state conferences in Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Vermont, and branches located on American military bases in Germany, Italy, and Japan. Arranged into two subseries.
BOX X:1619-1711	Branches, 1964-2009 The Branches subseries documents the activities and administration of local branches, state conferences of branches, the New England area conference, the European conference, and various branches located on American military bases in Germany, Italy, and Japan. Files related to international branches primarily date from the mid-1980s to the mid-1990s. The material does not reflect a comprehensive account of the activities and administration of every branch as the amount and type of documentation varies widely among branches. Recurring subjects and materials include complaints against branch leadership, election disputes, fundraising, events, requests for legal aid, resolutions, membership, local news stories, branch bylaws, charter applications, and financial reports. Material types include correspondence, newsletters, convention and event programs, meeting minutes, notes, photographs, reports, and news clippings. Arranged alphabetically by state, country, or area, and alphabetically by name of branch or conference thereunder.

General Office File, 1970-2007

The General Office File documents the work of the regional office as a whole, as well as the office files of regional directors Paula Brown Edmé and Hilda M. Rodgers. The subseries comprises material related to the annual convention, regional conventions and meetings, requests for legal aid, members and membership campaigns, the Afro-Academic Cultural Technological Scientific Olympics (ACT-SO), the High-Tech and Diversity Job Fair, and branch administration. Also present are subject files covering topics including education, housing, health care, marches and demonstrations, policing, and social security, a name file which largely comprises other staff members across the NAACP, and files related to various organizations with which the Northeast office collaborated. Correspondence primarily includes outgoing memoranda and letters related to the planning of various conferences, meetings, and programs. From 1996 to 2001, Northeast regional director Paula Brown Edmé oversaw both Region II and Region VII (the Mid-Atlantic region comprising Washington, D.C., Maryland, and Virginia), and thus a significant number of Region VII materials are found throughout the subseries. In most instances, this is noted in the container list, but such files may also be found elsewhere in the subseries in other folders dating from 1996 to 2001.

Material types include reports, memoranda, correspondence, notes, clippings, photographs, and printed matter.

Arranged alphabetically by subject or type of material and thereunder chronologically.

BOX X:1779-2173	Part X: Region V, 1930-2007

The Region V series documents the activities of the Southeast regional office of the NAACP, which oversaw the branches and state conferences of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee. The administrative records of Region V can be found within the Staff Files subseries, which contains the records of directors Ruby Hurley, Nelson B. Rivers III, Earl T. Shinhoster, and Charles White. Arranged into five subseries.

BOX X:1779-1872	Branches, 1955-2007

The Branches subseries documents the activities and administration of local branches and state conferences of branches. The materials do not reflect a comprehensive account of the activities and administration of every branch as the amount and type of documentation varies widely from branch to branch, with chronological gaps overlapping with material found in the Staff Files. Recurring topics include complaints against branch leadership, election disputes, fundraising, annual reports and accomplishments, events, requests for legal aid, membership forms, and financial reports.

Material types include correspondence, newsletters, convention and event programs, meeting minutes, notes, photographs, reports, and news clippings. A song and videos are in digital formats.

Arranged alphabetically by state and alphabetically by name of branch or conference thereunder. The file structure of the digital content maintained as received.

The Staff Files subseries contains the office files of the regional directors, namely Ruby Hurley (1952-1978), Earl T. Shinhoster (1978-1994), Nelson B. Rivers III (1994-1999) and Charles White (1999-2006). A small amount of material documenting the work of regional director Francys Johnson is also included. BOX X:2161-2173	Part X: Voter Education and Empowerment, 1940-2008 The Voter Education and Empowerment series documents the NAACP's efforts to increase voter registration, inform potential voters, and encourage individuals to vote. Most of the material in this series dates from the late 1960s to the late 1980s when these aims fell under the purview of the Voter Education Department and its directors Clifford Collins and John J. Johnson. In the 1990s these initiatives were overseen by a separate project, the Voter Empowerment Program, which became part of the Program Department when the association restructured in the 1990s. Material types include campaign files, news clippings, proposals, surveys, correspondence, manuals, reports, and printed matter. Videos, public service announcements, graphics, and radio advertisements are in digital formats. Arranged alphabetically by subject or material type. The file structure of the digital content maintained as received.

BOX X:2174-2366	Part X: Washington Bureau, 1945-2008 The Washington Bureau series spans the years 1945-2008, with the bulk of the material concentrated between 1980 and 1998. As the association's representative in Washington, D.C., the bureau assumed responsibility for tracking and influencing federal legislation, monitoring government agencies administering federal regulations and programs, testifying before Congress, and working with other organizations with similar objectives. There is significant crossover among subjects and material types across both subseries. Arranged into two subseries.
BOX X:2174-2266	Alphabetical File, 1954-2000 The core of the Alphabetical File subseries consists of subject files maintained by Washington Bureau staff on topics including armed services, civil rights, economic affairs, education, foreign affairs, health and welfare, housing, internal affairs, labor, public affairs, public relations, and youth welfare. The aforementioned file groupings were maintained as received. Additional alphabetical files that fell outside of this original filing system were incorporated under the heading "general file." As such, many topics appear in multiple files within the subseries. Material types include reports, memoranda, correspondence, clippings, notes, and printed matter. Arranged alphabetically by subject as received, with additional material arranged alphabetically by subject under the heading "general file." The file structure of the digital content maintained as received.

Filed to: U.S. Public Record, International Record, Treaty Bodies, and Allied Nations

By Authority of: State of Loc Nation Supreme Court

Lead Signatory: Rev Dr Christina Clement, U.S. Presidential Candidate, President of Black USA, Fiduciary, Trustee, Pro Se, Judge

HISTORICAL DECLARATION OF ENFORCEABILITY AND LEGAL and LAWFUL RESTITUTION SYSTEM

We, the duly constituted governing authority of the State of Loc Nation Global Public Benefit Corporation and State of Loc Nation Global Public Benefit Trust, on this day June 7, 2025, declare before the global, public, legal, and historical record the following:

That the Queendom of Loc Nation, acting through its Supreme Court, Treasury Tribunal, Diplomatic Office and ultimate Divine Indigenous right, has lawfully restored its sovereign rights, restitution system, and economic governance as an Indigenous, displaced, and historically redlined jurisdiction under color of U.S.; international and enacted State of Loc Nation Global Public Benefit Corporation and State of Loc Nation Global Public Benefit Trust law.

I. FOUNDATIONAL AUTHORITY

The enforcement and recognition of the State of Loc Nation government, currency, and court system is not aspirational — it is grounded in enacted law, legal publication, secured filings, un rebutted defaults, and binding administrative procedures.

We stand on the following enacted instruments:

U.S. Constitution — Amendments I, V, IX, X, XIII, XIV, XV

Freedmen's Bureau Acts of 1865 & 1866 — restoring land, legal status, and institutional equity

justice

Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) — enabling lawful debt offset, tender of payment, and lien rights

Administrative Procedure Act (APA) — enabling lawful notice, default, and execution

United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP)

International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR)

Equity, Natural Law, and Sui Generis Sovereignty Principles

Public Trust Doctrine — compelling restitution when civil systems fail the people (affected by redlining, racially gerrymandered maps and injustices constitutes a factual and legal basis for unilateral separation from oppressive governance structures, by operation of law and under recognized international legal norms.)

Declaration of Independence 1776: “wherever any form of government becomes destructive....t is the right of the people to altar or abolish it.” ASE

UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (Articles 3.4.5

International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (Article 1)

Marbury v Madison 5 US 137 1803 “...A law repugnant to the Constitution is void”

Treaty of Westphalia and sui generis sovereignty doctrine under customary international law
