NOBLE CVC Black History Fact: Major Laurel Miller

Major Laurel Miller was indeed a member of the National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE). He was one of the founding members of NOBLE, which was established in September 1976 during a three-day symposium to address crime in low-income urban areas.

Major Laurel Miller was a distinguished African American police officer in Richmond, Virginia. He made significant contributions to the Richmond City Police Department over his 36-year career. Major Miller was the first African American in the department's history to be promoted to several key positions, including Traffic Sergeant, Uniform Lieutenant, Division Head, Captain, and Major. In 1978, he also became the first African American Deputy Chief in the Richmond City Police Department.

Major Miller retired in 1997 and passed away on May 29, 2012. He is remembered for his dedication and service to the community.
