MEET LEE A. WRIGHT

Lee A. Wright is a leadership speaker, pastor, author, Air Force veteran, and founder of The Journey of a Godly Man, commonly known as JOAGM.

Drawing from 26 years of military service, pastoral leadership, mentorship, organizational leadership, and his experience surviving the 1996 Khobar Towers bombing, Lee delivers authentic messages that challenge people to lead with integrity, respond to adversity with resilience, and live with greater purpose.

Lee has served as a Technical Training Instructor, First Sergeant, and member of the Air Education and Training Command Inspector General team. His leadership experience includes developing people, supporting large organizations, navigating high-pressure environments, and helping individuals grow through seasons of challenge and change.

As a speaker, Lee combines compelling personal stories, practical leadership principles, biblical wisdom when appropriate, and actionable lessons audiences can apply in their workplaces, homes, churches, and communities.

His message is captured in one of his foundational principles:

“I am NOT a product of my circumstances. I am a product of my decisions!”

SIGNATURE PRESENTATIONS

LEADING WITH INTEGRITY

Developing Leaders People Can Trust

A practical leadership presentation that helps leaders understand how integrity, consistency, accountability, and service build trust within teams and organizations.

Ideal for: Corporations, government agencies, military organizations, associations, and leadership conferences.

RESILIENT LEADERSHIP

Leading with Strength Through Pressure, Change, and Adversity

Lee equips leaders with practical principles for maintaining perspective, supporting their teams, making sound decisions, and continuing forward during difficult seasons.

Ideal for: Corporate teams, military audiences, first responders, government agencies, healthcare organizations, and nonprofits.

CHOOSING CHARACTER

The Decisions You Make Determine the Leader You Become

Built around Lee's declaration, "I am NOT a product of my circumstances. I am a product of my decisions," this message challenges audiences to recognize how daily choices shape character, leadership, reputation, and legacy.

Ideal for: Leadership conferences, businesses, schools, churches, military organizations, and community events.

FAITH UNDER FIRE

Finding Courage, Hope, and Purpose Through Adversity

Drawing from his experience surviving the Khobar Towers bombing, Lee shares a deeply personal message about faith, resilience, loss, recovery, leadership, and discovering purpose after life changes unexpectedly.

This is not simply a presentation about tragedy. It is a message about what adversity reveals, what faith sustains, and how pain can become a platform for serving others.

Ideal for: Military and veteran organizations, churches, first responders, resilience conferences, nonprofits, and community events.

MEN OF GOD

Calling Men to Live with Strength, Purpose, and Faith

Lee challenges men to reject passive living and embrace their responsibility to lead with faith, discipline, humility, courage, and character.

Ideal for: Men's conferences, churches, retreats, leadership gatherings, and community programs.

THE LEGACY DECISION

Today's Decisions Become Tomorrow's Legacy

This message helps audiences move beyond short-term success and consider the people, principles, and contributions that will remain after their position, platform, or career has ended.

Ideal for: Leadership conferences, churches, businesses, veteran organizations, retirement programs, and family-focused events.
