

Third-Party & Travel Planner Bookings

We are always grateful when guests find us through travel planners, agencies, concierge services, and other outside booking partners. To keep every stay smooth, all reservations at Baileys Harbor Schoolhouse Inn are subject to the policies listed on our official website and confirmed directly by our team.

Outside companies may not alter our pricing, cancellation policy, check-in process, guest rules, room details, refund terms, or special request approvals unless approved by us in writing. Baileys Harbor Schoolhouse Inn is not responsible for promises, fees, descriptions, guarantees, or refund terms made by third-party companies.

For every reservation, we require current contact information, a valid ID, and a credit card for the on-site stay occupant. Our niche is personal hospitality, so communication is important. We must be able to communicate directly with the guest staying on the property before and during the stay.

Regardless of how a stay is arranged, guests are responsible for reviewing and following all Baileys Harbor Schoolhouse Inn policies. Questions are always welcome, and we encourage guests or travel planners to contact us directly before arrival so everything is clear, calm, and ready for a wonderful stay.
