Acknowledgement and Disclaimer

By signing this document, I acknowledge that Heidi Hanes of Redefining Pathways, LLC, is not qualified to provide legal advice; Heidi Hanes is qualified to provide mental health therapy in other settings but that is not the focus of high conflict divorce coaching and consulting. Heidi Hanes of Redefining Pathways, LLC, is able to offer support during high conflict divorces or custody battles but this is by no means designed to replace the services of a therapist or an attorney. You are also acknowledging that you have thoroughly read through the “Client Information and Policies” contract, which was supplied to you, and you agree to all policies and information outlined.

Please remember that communication and honesty is of the utmost importance during consultation and coaching sessions and these serve as the foundation of our relationship. Sessions never expire and are non-refundable.

Please feel free to email a photo of you/your children – I love when I can put a face with a name!
