

Title of webinar*Anticipating Change and Setting Ambition*

Benjamin Franklin said that “in this world nothing can be said to be certain, except death and taxes.” In the 21st century, this should be updated to include “change” – the only thing that is uncertain, is what kind of change it will be.

This webinar will develop your ability to anticipate change, determine how it could impact you and your team, and to plan ambitious goals.

5 practical tools will be shared with worked-through examples, so you can understand how to apply the approaches in your role.

Who is it for?

This webinar is for you if:

- You lead a team
- You need to influence others outside your team, often “upwards”
- You anticipate “change”, and would like ideas and support to make it easier to implement in your role

Learning objectives

By the end of the webinar, you will:

- Gain practical frameworks for long-term, proactive decision-making
- Have 5 practical tools to help you understand, guide and support change
- Have increased confidence in your ability to lead and to influence leadership
- Have developed your ability to think and act more strategically in your role

About Harvey Wade

Harvey is an experienced, award-winning innovation leader who delivers business impact through developing new propositions and solutions to solve user needs.

ACII qualified, with 20 years of experience in formal innovation roles and strategy development plus an additional 10 years in insurance with Commercial Union, CGU and Allianz, he knows what it takes to create, drive and sustain innovation, change cultures, and create buy-in at all levels.

Harvey founded Innovate21 to enable leaders and their organisations deliver greater impact from innovation. He has worked with a range of businesses from different sectors, including Chaucer, Thomas Miller, Ecclesiastical, Hiscox, Cisco, Pinsent Masons, EDF, Scottish Water and the WHO.

He is a regular conference speaker, award-winning blogger and contributor to MBA and executive education programmes. Harvey’s webinars are always interactive, with views/opinions sought from attendees, and time allowed for Q&A at the end.

Charge for webinar delivery is £400 plus vat