To Whom It May Concern,

After careful consideration by The Eastern Atlantic States Regional Council of Carpenters leadership and its New Jersey members, we have decided to endorse the slate of Senator Patrick Diegnan, Assemblyman Robert Karabinchak, and Assemblyman Sterley Stanley for re-election for the New Jersey District 18 Democratic Primary in June. Supporting your team is important to our union and our members as we look to advocate with you on issues that affect our union, the union families we represent, and all the workers in our community.

Your slate is receiving the endorsement of our union because we share a common desire to protect workers' rights in our region and the country as a whole. Making sure that working class families receive a fair wage, good benefits, and the safe working conditions they deserve seems like common sense, but your slate understands there are those who actively take steps to weaken workers' rights. Their actions threaten our local standard of living and our communities as a whole. Our union looks forward to advocating for these rights with you all as well as fighting against construction industry tax fraud, so-called right-to-work legislation, misclassification of workers, coerced labor, and more. By working with leaders like you, we can protect fair standards, protect working families, and provide opportunity for good paying jobs in New Jersey

Congratulations on your selection and endorsement by the Eastern Atlantic States Regional Council of Carpenters. We look forward to your victory in June and continuing to work with you to better our community.

Sincerely,

William C. Sproule
Executive Secretary-Treasurer
Eastern Atlantic States Regional Council of Carpenters
