How Toastmasters works

At Toastmasters, members learn by speaking to groups and working with others in a supportive environment. A typical Toastmasters club is made up of approximately 20 people who meet once a week for about an hour. Each meeting gives members several opportunities:

- Conduct meetings
  Members learn how to plan and conduct meetings.
- Give impromptu speeches
  Members present one- to two-minute, impromptu speeches about assigned topics.
- Present prepared speeches
  Members present speeches based on projects from the Pathways learning experience—Toastmasters' education program. Projects cover topics such as speech organization, vocal variety, language, gestures, and persuasion.
- Offer constructive evaluation
  Every speaker is assigned an evaluator who points out speech strengths and offers suggestions for improvement.
- Pathways Learning Experience
  Pathways is Toastmasters' exciting, interactive and flexible education program. With 6 paths to choose from, you have the option to pick which skills you want to focus on.
