Archaeology Museum, University of South Alabama, Mobile, Alabama

The University of South Alabama (USA) Archaeology Museum showcases artifacts from the Gulf Coast and covers over 12,000 years of prehistory and history. The USA

Archaeology Museum fuels public curiosity, awareness and appreciation for the region's past, the ways of life of ancient Woodland cultures, mound-building Mississippian peoples, early French settlers, and an African American family after the Civil War, and its relevance today through exhibitions, education, and public programming.

Florence County Museum, Florence, South Carolina

The Florence County Museum reflects the region's rich artistic, cultural and historic heritage. Collection highlights in local history include: Cretaceous period reptile material, an 18 ft. tall Ancient Bald Cypress trunk sub-fossil, Native American and Colonial period artifacts, Civil War artifacts and Confederate Naval Yard at Mars Bluff. The museum's permanent collection includes works by celebrated 20th century African-American artist and Florence, South Carolina native, William H. Johnson and is home to The Wright Collection of Southern Art, a prestigious volume of over 140 works representing some of the finest in 20th century Southern Art.
