To Whom It May Concern:

Mr. Brian Wengler has been a client at the Mental Health Center of Denver since July 2008. He has been under my direct care since October 2019. He carries a diagnosis of bipolar I disorder, currently in remission. I currently prescribe him three mood stabilizers (paliperidone, quetiapine, lithium) and an antidepressant (escitalopram) for this condition. He has been adherent to treatment recommendations including taking medications. I meet with him approximately every two months for medication review. He is also in contact with his therapist Chanel Michelsen on a regular basis.

Mr. Wengler is actively engaged in his treatment and his prognosis for sustained remission on his current medication regimen is good.

Sincerely,

Stefan Bumol, M.D.
