

ELIZABETH HEAGNEY

Summary

---

An experienced professional committed to delivering high-quality policy and outcomes. A team player with strong inter-personal skills and a commitment to developing a respectful workplace. A skilled analyst and creative, holistic thinker. Able to provide innovative, interdisciplinary and evidence-based insights to support decision-making, and help agencies deliver on their objectives.

Education: PhD in Ecology (UNSW); Bachelor of Advanced Science (Environmental Science) & Bachelor of Arts (Comparative Development) (UNSW)

Skill Highlights

---

- Creative problem solving
- Holistic strategic thinking
- Project management
- Innovation
- Collaboration
- Communication

Prizes and awards

---

- 2019 - Selection for the NSW Government Women in Senior Leadership Program
- 2016 - NSW Office of Environment & Heritage Chief Executive Awards, Finalist, Exceptional Performance Category (individual)
- 2016 - NSW Office of Environment & Heritage Chief Executive Awards, Finalist, Excellence in Innovation or Process Improvement (team)
- 2006 - NSW Fisheries John Holliday Student Conservation Award
- 2005 - Zoological Parks Board of NSW Conservation Prize

Experience

---

- 2022 – 2023 Research Director, Farming for the Future, Lismore
- 2021 – 2022 Manager and Principal Analyst - Centre for Advanced Analytics and Economics, NSW Department of Planning, Industry and Environment, Sydney
- 2020 – 2021 National Scientist, Secretariat of the Pacific Community, Noumea
- 2017 – 2020 Principal Analyst and Team Leader – Economic and Strategic Analysis Branch, NSW Office of Environment and Heritage, Sydney
- 2009 – 2017 Senior Analyst, Economics Services Section, NSW Department of Environment and Climate Change and Water, Sydney
- 2013 – 2015 Project Manager and Specialist Analyst, Southern Cross University, Lismore
- 2008 – 2023 Principal, Heagney Allman Consulting, Lismore

Recent publications available at <https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Elizabeth-Heagney>