Colli CG was appointed as the contract project management and installation firm to work closely with the millwork production vendor, overseeing and coordinating all aspects of the project. This included managing the production schedule, ensuring timely delivery, hiring and supervising the installation team, and ultimately ensuring the successful completion of the millwork project within the designated timeframe and budget. The exceptional outcome of the project has led the millwork supplier to extend an offer to Colli CG to take on the management, production, and installation of numerous upcoming multi-million dollar millwork projects.
