Important Disclaimers

Treatment Duration:

While we typically complete full arch implant therapy in 3-5 days, in unusual circumstances, it may take a little longer to complete the planned treatment.

This may be due to individual healing responses, anatomical considerations, or other clinical factors that prioritize your safety and long-term success.

Healing Process:

Dental implants depend upon bone healing (osseointegration) for predictable and long-term success. This biological process typically takes 3-6 months for complete integration. While we provide immediate temporary restorations, when possible, the final success of your implants depends on this natural healing process and your compliance with post-operative instructions.
