

Corporate and Community Partnerships Team

The Corporate and Community Partnerships team of the BDPA organization is tasked with building and nurturing strategic relationships with corporate entities, educational institutions, and community organizations. This team focuses on identifying and cultivating partnerships that align with BDPA's mission to promote diversity and inclusion in the technology sector. It coordinates collaborative initiatives, sponsorships, and joint ventures that provide mutual benefits, including resources, networking opportunities, and support for BDPA programs. By fostering strong alliances and leveraging external expertise, the Corporate and Community Partnerships team enhances BDPA's impact and expands its reach within the industry and the community.

To join the Corporate and Community Partnerships team, or for more information, contact Tondi Allen, Vice President of Partner Engagement, at 216-331-4402, or tondi@bdpacleveland.com.
