3. Choice (This can be 501, cricket, or 301)
 - a. All matches must start with a bullseye to determine who will go first. If there is any discussion, you can flip a coin to determine who will throw first.
 - b. Throwing the bull (first or last). Any single or double bull, thrown to determine game order, may be pulled at the request of the opponent. In case of a tie on a single or double bull, both players must throw again, in reverse order.
 - c. Darts thrown at the bull to determine the order of play must remain in the board until both players agree upon which dart is closer. If the closest dart cannot be readily determined, then the players will throw again in reverse order.
 - d. The loser of the first game will throw first for the bull to start the second game and likewise the loser of the second game will throw first for the bull for the third game (if needed).
