Evelyn Falconer began her career as an early childhood specialist and parent educator, owning and operating a day care facility and preschool for 12 years, while putting herself through college. Her dedication to the special needs population began in her early college years, a life changing experience that remains a driving force in her personal and professional life. A native New Yorker, she completed her bachelor's degree at SUNY Stony Brook, Masters at St Joseph's in Therapeutic Education, and post graduate Applied Behavior Analysis coursework at Long Island University, Southampton. She came to Florida in 2002 and has spent the past 20 years providing direct services, managing private schools and developing new programs in south Florida and (for two years) in Atlanta.
