THE REGIONS WE EXPLORE

1. The Central Kalahari

The Central Kalahari Game Reserve is one of Africa's last great wilderness areas, offering an extraordinary sense of space, solitude, and adventure across more than 52,000 square kilometres of vast grasslands, ancient fossil river valleys, and endless horizons. Renowned for its iconic black-maned Kalahari lions, exceptional cheetah sightings, large herds of antelope, and diverse desert-adapted wildlife, the reserve provides outstanding game-viewing and photographic opportunities in a truly unspoilt environment. From spectacular sunsets over the open plains to nights beneath crystal-clear, star-filled skies, the Central Kalahari captures the essence of wild Africa.

2. Moremi Game Reserve

Moremi beautifully synthesizes the water-rich elements of the permanent Delta with vast, expansive dry-land habitats. Celebrated globally for its elite predator viewing, the reserve supports healthy, vital populations of lion, leopard, cheetah, and the highly endangered African wild dog. Every game drive navigates an intricate mosaic of floodplains, mature mopane forests, and open grasslands, guaranteeing stunning biodiversity and an ever-changing scenic backdrop.

3. Savuti

Savuti holds a legendary status among safari enthusiasts worldwide. Famous for its high-stakes, dramatic predator interactions and massive, dominant elephant bulls, the region delivers raw, iconic wildlife action. Ancient, unpredictable river channels, vast dry plains, and distant horizons cultivate a profound sense of untamed wilderness. Sightings here are characterized as intense, highly unpredictable, and completely unforgettable.

4. Chobe National Park

The life-giving Chobe River sustains one of the largest remaining contiguous elephant populations on the African continent. Wildlife gathers along the riverbanks in immense numbers, particularly during the dry season, creating spectacular viewing spectacles. Custom boat safaris provide low-angle photographic opportunities and intimate observations of elephants swimming, large buffalo herds, crocodiles, pods of hippos, and prolific birdlife.
