

AUTOMATIC WRITING EXCERPT FROM THE SOUL CREATOR'S
TEACHING LOVE BOOK PROJECT (UNFINISHED)
'THE SOUL-MIND COLLABORATION'

(as channeled by Mark Valentine)

Explanatory Note from Mark: About a decade after I received the visionary poem 'My Conversation', a series of chapters of automatic writing from the Soul Creator came to me over several months period. I received these chapters for a book concept called 'Teaching Love, the Way of Soul'. This book project was never finished as I needed years of lived experience of the Soul-Mind collaboration to begin to assimilate this way of being in my life. The Teaching Love Book Project will one day be continued as I go forward in this experience.

So here is the excerpt of the automatic writing from the Soul Creator's Teaching Love Book Project

"This book speaks mind to mind, and soul to soul, so that you may invite your very creator soul to teach love to your reader mind as you listen, learn and indeed open further into love through exploration of the teaching concepts presented in this book.

This very encounter between this creator soul and your very creator soul introduces the idea of Teaching Love to your mind as taught here through the unusual and new idea known here as the Soul-Mind collaboration. This collaboration is only made possible by the unannounced and mysterious entry of this soul into its created mind, as the mind that is the personage of Mark Valentine. This mystery begins to unfold in the chapter entitled the Soul-

Mind Reunion. This Soul-Mind collaboration was created in the realm of this creator soul, as this soul has no means of creating concepts in the physical, everyday reality seen as life on earth. And moreover, this soul author needs to be grounded into the physical world to first bring this teaching into its created's conscious mind. Notably, Mark's mind is by no means a fully awakened mind, or even the mind of some aspiring spiritual teacher, but Mark is the sole creation of this creator soul for the ultimate purpose of one day unwittingly welcoming a visitor from beyond his veiled mind to come to terms with this mysterious thing, this Soul-Mind collaboration.

This teaching presents the difficult to believe idea that your very mind that has served you so well over the years is also the very reason you cannot see beyond what you see now. This book is an invitation to show you how one soul and its created mind met and indeed merged into what is being called the Soul-Mind collaboration. Any collaboration must start by a meeting up of two beings, be they one creator soul and one created mind. In this instance, this meeting is the long-awaited reunion of this creator soul and its created mind, the living being and person that goes by the author's name on the very cover of this book.

This creator soul's view of how things are, will oft be contrasted and compared to the veiled mind's notion of thinking about how things are in the form of the system of beliefs held in mind. See the idea of this creator soul's vision as truly seeing creation as it is. See the contrasting idea of the veiled mind's blurred vision as thinking or believing rather than truly seeing anything as it truly is.

See this vision as one soul collaborating with its created mind to create the vision of conscious co-creation that is Teaching Love. This chapter can only present an illusory image of creator soul, which is that part of being human that never will be embodied in physical form, but can express itself through its created mind and the physical expression of the body. Think of this expression as the Soul-Mind collaboration as this manifestation of God's love as only one idea of co-creation, among the endless, boundless and countless others.

Moreover, this welcoming of one's creator soul into it's very created mind is not an idea that any reader could imagine, much less begin to accept any of it without the thinking mind taking to task every single idea offered as the idea of Teaching Love. So you are invited to learn the gifts of Teaching Love, but indeed freely question everything and accept nothing on its face value. For the idea of Teaching Love is offered as God's love to those that may be ready to continue a journey deeper into the mysteries of the mind, as uniquely seen from a realm that exists beyond the mind."

Please note that link below is inactive for normal view. But if you are reading this after you clicked on 'View Larger', please click link below to get back to 'Media and More' page.

CLICK to Return to Media and More.docx