

PREVENTION THROUGH EDUCATION

MillionKids.org is a public benefit 501(c)3 nonprofit working since 2008 to prevent the commercial sexual exploitation of children including sex trafficking, sextortion & online enticement and child sex abuse materials.

At Million Kids, we leverage years of in-depth research, actual case study analysis, and hands-on experience to bring you the most comprehensive education on protecting your family and community from predators. As experts in the field, we are dedicated to fighting sex trafficking, child sexual abuse materials, online exploitation, and image based sexual abuse which can include sextortion and non-consensual sharing of explicit images. Through our in-person comprehensive workshops, online training videos, webinar presentations, website, and email network, we aim to educate individuals and communities about the risks and dangers while giving them the tools to spread awareness and protect others.

We teach how social media and apps are used to seduce and groom children for exploitation and how the world, through the Internet, is a place without boundaries giving predators 24/7 access.

We share what makes young people vulnerable and how to change it.

We have educated hundreds of thousands of youth, school officials, government agencies, law enforcement, corporations, nonprofits, faith-based organizations and parents/guardians.
