Elizabeth De VERE (C. Derby)

Born: 2 Jul 1575

Christened: 10 Jul 1575, Theobalds

Died: 10 Mar 1626/27

Buried: 11 Mar 1626, Westminster Abbey, London, England

Notes: The Complete Peerage vol.X,p.253,note f. She was brought up by her grandfather, Lord Burghley, who wanted her to marry Henry Wriothesley, third Earl of Southampton, whose wardship he held. When Wriothesley refused to wed her in 1591, he was fined £5000. After a period as a maid of honor, she married William Stanley, sixth Earl of Derby, in the presence of Queen Elizabeth. They had waited to be sure his sister-in-law's posthumous child would be a girl, making his title secure, before they wed. This wedding is sometimes said to have been the occasion for the first performance of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream, although there are other contenders. In late 1596 and again in late 1597, Elizabeth was rumored to be having an affair with Robert Devereux, second Earl of Essex.

Bridget De VERE (B. Norreys of Rycote)

Born: 6 Apr 1584

Died: 1630

Notes: The Complete Peerage vol.X,p.253,note f. Brought up by her grandfather, Lord Burghley, who intended, in 1597, that she marry William Herbert, heir to Henry Herbert, second Earl of Pembroke. He refused the match and in Apr 1599, Bridget married Francis Norreys of Rycote, instead. They had one child, Elizabeth, and had separated by 1606. In 1621, Norreys was created Earl of Berkshire. Bridget died between Dec 1630 and Mar 1631.

Father: Edward De VERE \(17° E. Oxford\)

Susan De VERE (C. Pembroke)

Born: 26 May 1587

Buried: 1 Feb 1628/9, Westminster Abbey, London, England

Notes: The Complete Peerage vol.X,p.253,note f. She was brought up by her grandfather, Lord Burghley. At fifteen, she was the subject of a poem by Nathaniel Baxter that lamented her lack of a dowry. She married Phillip Herbert, it was said to be a love match. The nuptials were celebrated with a masque at court and King James gave the newlyweds land worth £10,000 at Shurland, Kent. Herbert was one of the King's favorites and the honors and gifts continued to roll in. In 1605, he was created, Earl of Montgomery. Susan was at court that year to dance in The Masque of Blackness and both Susan and Phillip danced in Hymenaei the following Jan. They had seven sons and three daughters, three of whom died young. Susan's niece, Elizabeth Norreys, her sister Bridget's daughter, was living in the Earl of Montgomery's house in 1622, giving rise to rumors that she was his mistress, but Elizabeth's elopement with Edward Wray early that year tends to cast doubt on that allegation. Like her husband, Susan was a patron of the arts.

Father: Edward De VERE \(17° E. Oxford\)

Mother: Anne CECIL \(C. Oxford\)

Married: Phillip HERBERT \(4° E. Pembroke/1° E. Montgomery\) 27 Dec 1604, Whitehall

According to Arthur Wilson, Life of James I (1643), the Earl of Oxford was of no reputation in his youth, being very debauched and riotous, and, having no means, maintained it by sordid and unworthy ways. On 22 Jul 1611 Oxford's mother Elizabeth complained against John Hunt, Henry's second cousin and his "bedmate", who seduces her son into evil courses, leads him to extravagance, and prejudices him against her authority. Earl Henry died of wounds received at the siege of Breda.

Thenceforward he was continually on active service in the Low Countries, and, like his brother, took part in the Cadiz expedition of 1596; at Nieuwport and Ostend Sir Horace (who had been knighted at Cadiz) held command of some importance. Died from apoplexy whilst calling for fresh Salmon, and reaching out his plate to take it from one that carves, he was not able to draw his hand back again, but sunk down.
