It grieves me to write this letter, but I feel compelled to address the tragic assignation of our beloved Charlie Kirk. TRW has always supported Turning Point and has members who work for them in our membership.

Spoken words cannot express the pain and anguish that so many of us our experiencing. It is times like this that we are reminded of how vulnerable our lives can be and that there are never any guarantees for a tomorrow, thus we must live life to the fullest, as Charlie did, without hate, regret and anger. Please continue to pray for our country, TPUSA, our youth, the Kirk family, and spend time with your family, friends and people you love.

The Lord is near to the brokenhearted and saves the crushed in spirit. PSALMS 34:18

September's Speaker

Loren Spivack

Loren is a popular speaker at Republican and conservative events all over the United States. He was the keynote speaker at the Michigan, Illinois and Minnesota state conventions of Republican Women Federated in the autumn of 2023. In the past he has been the keynote speaker at state Republican Women Federated conventions in Virginia, California, Arizona and Nevada. Loren was, along with Kelly Ann Conway, the keynote speaker at the Delaware state Republican Convention in April of 2023. Previously, he has been the keynote speaker at the Idaho and Oregon state Republican Conventions. He spoke at the Michigan GOP's biannual Mackinac conference in 2023.

Always with a fresh take, Loren examines the issues of our time through the eyes of an economist. And he reveals fundamental truths underlying the political challenges we face. He speaks on a very wide variety of topics both narrowly-focused (e.g. The Path not Taken: Fixing American Healthcare with Capitalism) and very broad (e.g. Why We Fight. Understanding The Modern Left)

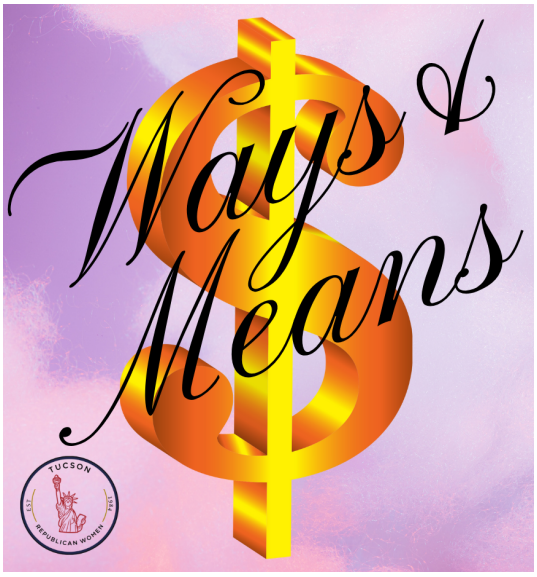
Loren writes unique parodies that teach conservative principles and offer conservative critiques, in a humorous way. So far, he has written seven books:

The New Democrat, a parody of the Obama Administration
The Gorax, an anti-environmentalist parody
The Wizard of Iz, a parody of the Clintons and the Democrats in general
To Think That I Saw It on CNN Live, a parody of the media in the Trump era
Motley Clique, a parody of 'critical race theory' and identity politics
Kamalat, a parody of the Biden Administration
The Fisherman's Husband, a parody of the LGBTQIA+ - ÷ Movement

Loren's eighth book, a parody of public education, will be out in 2025.

Loren was born and raised in Massachusetts and spent most of his adult life in New York City. Before becoming active in politics, Spivack worked for several non-profits and as a management consultant for both profit and non-profit companies. Spivack founded "Free Market Warrior" in 2009 to make a positive difference in American politics and economics. His "Free Market Warrior" store was expelled from Concord Mills Mall in North Carolina in July of 2009 for selling material critical of the Obama Administration. (Mall owners, Simon Property Group, are major Democratic donors)

We finished our "No Event" Event on August 32nd (and, yes, someone waited till then to participate) and we will be drawing for the wonderful prizes at our September luncheon at Jethro's Cafe. You can win as many times as your name is picked, depending on how many entries you have. So come and see what prizes you could win.



We have also started selling the official White House Christmas ornament and would like you to sell at least 5-10. Each ornament is $40 and comes with a certificate that explains about the annual ornament. They each have as serial number, so they are collector's items. Let's see how many we can sell as a club.

We will not have a table this month because of the prize distribution for the "No Event" Event, but look forward to some interesting new goodies to buy next month to help our club. See you on the 22nd at Jethro's.

Proverbs 12:18

Reckless words pierce like a sword, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

From this verse we learn about speaking negatively or carelessly. When we speak negatively to anyone, we damage ourselves as well as others. Ask the holy spirit for help whenever speaking. Pray "help me, Holy Spirit" before speaking. This is a great practice to adopt in our lives. If we are silent, we should pray before speaking to others. If they are speaking, pray before responding.

MinuteMen

Ladies, have you ever looked around the room and wondered who the men are and why there are very few present? The leadership of the Tucson Republican Women (TRW) have formed a special group for the men in their lives known as the Minutemen. These Minutemen serve the TRW in various capacities from manual labor to expertise in a myriad of fields.

Taking their moniker from the Revolutionary War times, the Minutemen are responsible for being ready in a short period of time to provide service or services to the TRW organization. Just like the Minutemen of the time, they are present in time of need and then return to the background awaiting the call. A key difference between the TRW Minutemen and those of the Revolutionary War era is the age. None of the current Minutemen are under 30 nor will you see them carrying three days of provisions. You will however see them supporting TRW functions and luncheons, handling details like flag placement or returning tables and chairs.

As Minutemen, we are here to support our wives while ensuring their safety and staying in the background. We are also here to provide that male perspective when needed. When you call on us, we'll be there to lend a hand. Just like the militia of old, we need more men to populate the ranks of the Minutemen. Ask your husband to get involved and join our ranks.

Twenty-four years ago, after being stationed at Davis-Monthan AFB as an Explosive Ordnance Disposal technician, I, like many others, encountered a pivotal moment in my life with the cowardly terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center. Today is another pivotal moment in my life as I announce my candidacy to become the next Republican senator for Arizona's legislative district 17.

I am a retired Air Force Master Sergeant who has already taken an oath to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States and understands what service to something larger than myself truly means. I have traveled the world and experienced numerous different cultures where I cemented the value of difference. As a child and grandchild of military veterans, service is ingrained into my being.

Education is another important aspect of a candidate. I have attended and earned numerous degrees in Arizona from Cochise College, in addition to my bachelor's and a master's degree from the University of Arizona. I also earned another master's degree from Liberty University. While higher education is important for some vocations, it is not necessary for all. I am a strong proponent of Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs for our students.

Like many of you, I am not a native Arizonan, but I have consciously chosen to make it my forever home and serve my community and state. My wife and I have lived in the LD 17 area for the last 21 years in the same house we purchased after we got married. Our children graduated from Vail schools.

I look forward to serving Arizona by being part of the legislative team designed to keep our local, state, and federal governments in their respective lanes. Additionally, we need to ensure fiscal responsibility at the governmental levels we can control. Government works better when all sides are taken into consideration, voices are heard and individual rights are protected. This right is enshrined in the First Amendment and needs to be reiterated through a recurrence of the fundamental principles of our nation.

I enter this race with the support of my wife, family, and friends. We hope you will join us and ask you to support the candidate who isn't beholden to outside interests. Vote Chris King for AZ

Almost 20 years after approving RTA taxes, only 18 of the 35 projects promised to the taxpayers of Pima County have been completed with the associated tax ending in 2026.
