

Answer true or false.

- ___1. People usually fall in love with someone very different from themselves. Put another way, opposites attract.
- ___2. Everyone dreams.
- ___3. When you burn your hand, the neural information travels to your brain at nearly the speed of light.
- ___4. Most people would be willing to administer a near-fatal electric shock to another person if an experimenter told them to do so.
- ___5. People with one eye can still see in three dimensions.
- ___6. It is an optical illusion when the moon appears larger on the horizon than it does overhead.
- ___7. Homosexuality is classified as a mental disorder.
- ___8. Blind people have a more sensitive sense of hearing and touch.
- ___9. Hypnosis can help people accurately recall a crime scene.
- ___10. In human beings, the part of the brain corresponding to the mouth is bigger than the brain area corresponding to the entire leg.
- ___11. Animals process information in the same way that people do.
- ___12. A well-trained psychologist can determine a person's hidden problems by analyzing their dreams.
- ___13. "Split personality" is one of the most severe forms of schizophrenia.
- ___14. We experience stress when good things as well as bad things happen to us.
- ___15. If you want a person to continue performing some action, you should reward the action on a consistent basis.
- ___16. Women use both hemispheres (halves) of their brains to listen while men use only one, so women must be better listeners than men.
- ___17. Playing classical music (such as Mozart) for a young infant will increase his or her IQ.