

TITLE: THE LITTLE PROFESSOR MYSTERY 5-Book Series

DR. PERRY BUFFINGTON, a.k.a. "Dr. Buff"

PSYCHOLOGIST, AUTHOR, MEDIA PUNDIT, UNIV. of GA SENIOR LECTURER

NOVEMBER 2026 RELEASE

SEPTEMBER 2025 RELEASE

REPRESENTED BY:

DENISE DORMAN, Publicist. WriteBrain Media | 630.215.5623 | denise@writebrainmedia.com

In 1960s Georgia, precocious Carson, a.k.a. "The Little Professor," is that smart kid teachers love and bullies torment. His grandmother's home becomes his after-school refuge from playground anxieties.

In Book #1 of this 5-book series, Carson accidentally breaks the angel's wings from his grandmother's antique nativity set, which get repaired via some Christmas angel magic.

In Book #2, releasing this Thanksgiving 2026, Carson's determined to solve the mystery of the little boy with blue wings the Wise Men called Little Tofa, while in present day, his school classroom's nativity play goes comedically sideways.

SUGGESTED SEGMENTS

1. Holiday gift — "The book you read aloud after the tree is up."
2. Evergreen psychology — Bullying, school/holiday stress, resilience – the book as a seasonal peg.
3. Grandparents as the real safety net — What Carson's after-school refuge gets right.
4. The Retro Wonder Trend — Why retro, mid-century childhood stories (like A Christmas Story) keep returning and inspiring wonder.
5. Family Holiday Traditions – The psychology of why they matter.

SOUND BITES DR. BUFFINGTON CAN ACTUALLY SAY ON AIR

- "Carson is every kid who thinks everything is his fault and his one mistake has ruined Christmas."
- "Grandmothers are often the first therapists children ever meet."
- "I write fiction the way I teach: making the inner life visible."

THE ASK

- Live or taped: 4-7 minutes. Author + book cover + one prop (Nativity angel with a repaired wing for television).
- Holiday-gift roundups from mid-November through Christmas Eve.
- Psychology hits for any time a school or family story needs an expert who explains concepts with flair.

ABOUT DR. PERRY BUFFINGTON:

Dr. Buff, as he's called, was a child psychologist before earning his Ph.D. and becoming a popular professor at University of Georgia (where he still teaches) as well as a media pundit. He was deemed the "Frasier of Atlanta radio." Link to TV Samples.

DR. BUFF Media History:

- Early 1990s: His "ParentWise" advice was heard daily on radio in 75 markets.
- 1990-1997: "Positive Parenting with Dr. Buff" 60-second vignettes for WPCH-FM Atlanta
- 1997: He hosted the 3-hour Dr. Buff Show on WGST.
- 1990-2000: Dr. Buff's 3-minute psychology segments appeared on WTLV-TV in Jacksonville, FL and WXIA-TV in Atlanta
- 2000-2003: His "Cheap Psychological Tricks" was a 60-second vignette heard daily on Envision Radio.