Domestic Violence-

This course will meet the mandates for Psychology of Domestic Violence. Students will receive information on the best practices and evidence based investigation of Domestic Violence cases. Conducting impartial investigations will be taught as well as when to arrest and how much evidence is probable cause on domestic violence cases.

Also taught will be the impact on secondary victims such as children of domestic violence and how they are impacted both in the short time and the long term. We will learn how we can help both the primary victim as well as secondary victims of domestic battery.

Orders of Protection-

Students of this course will receive information on what a petitioner needs to present to court to receive an order of protection. When to arrest and how much evidence is needed for probable cause to arrest in the case of a violation of order of protection.

This training is funded and recognized by the Illinois Training and Standards Board.
