About the class-

Overhears can be an extremely useful tool in certain felony investigations, yet they are often underutilized due to uncertainty about the various processes involved. This class will provide officers with:

- ◇ a thorough understanding of the law
- ◇ How each part of the law is properly documented on the required form
- ◇ What equipment to use
- ◇ Proper instructions are to give to cooperating witnesses

At the conclusion of this training, students will be able to understand the following: All sections of 725 ILCS108, how to obtain and document S/A Authorization , how to document and obtain judicial approval of use of eavesdropping device, how to document and obtain grounds for approval or authorization, emergency exceptions to procedures, how long the recordings will be held, when notice has to be made to the parties overheard and the importance of time and how to address that to the non-consensual party.

Observed Mandates Include:

Civil Rights
