2023 Highlights

Over 4,200 DfGI Kits for Liberia!

The Days for Girls International (DfGI) warehouse collected over 3,700 U.S.-sewn kits with washable pads for the Liberian Children's Ministry. Combined with D4G's local collections, Joe Boway will have over 4,200 DfGI kits to ship and distribute in 2024. These washable pads help girls stay in school. Without them, they are at risk of falling behind and dropping out.

Grace Community Center -Kisii Kept Girls and Their Communities Safe

The deep Kenyan well provided water amid a drought and the filtration greatly reduced waterborne illnesses. The sewing and liquid soap enterprises sewed and distributed hundreds of washable pads while community members and local schools received liquid soap to fight disease.

50 Hens for Special Needs Schools

Deaf children sign "I love you" as a thank you for the hens given to their school. Five special needs schools were presented with 10 hens each to provide eggs for several years. These eggs will help students stay strong and concentrate on their studies.

New Anti-FGM voices

The Grace Community Center-Kisii invited many who had promoted FGM (female genital mutilation) and even those who did the cut to learn about the profound harm caused by this cultural practice. The group was so moved they declared they would join Robert in his mission to end FGM!

Young Mothers and Their Babies

The Kenyan Circles of Grace program continued to provide young unwed mothers who are often shunned by their communities with a sense of hope as mentors befriended them, taught basic childcare skills, and reminded them of God's deep love.

Amputee Verah Pursues Her Dreams

Thanks to a generous D4G donor, Verah went from depression to joy. Several years ago Verah was in an accident and lost her full right arm and her fingers on her left hand. D4G assisted first with a prosthetic left hand and then a small enterprise grant. Verah created a successful business and after gaining respect in her community through her strength and determination, she was recently offered free tuition and housing to a school for media to pursue her dream, a degree in journalism!
