

At Bremkie Photography we thoroughly enjoy Family Photo Shoots, they're so much fun! We love capturing what makes your family unique while finding creative ways to showcase your family's interests and personality.

Below are some tips to prepare for your Family Photo Session. Your Bremkie Photographer will be communicating with you on your vision, location choice, and other details pertaining to your upcoming photoshoot.

Clothing Coordination:

- Coordinate outfits within the family, aiming for a cohesive look without being too matchy-matchy.
- Choose colors and styles that complement each other and reflect your family's personality.
- Avoid busy patterns and large logos that may distract from the focus of the photos.

Comfortable Attire:

- Select comfortable clothing that allows freedom of movement, especially for children.
- Consider layers and weather-appropriate clothing if shooting outdoors.

Accessories and Props:

- Bring along accessories such as hats, scarves, or jewelry to add visual interest to the photos.
- Consider bringing props that reflect your family's hobbies, interests, or personalities.

Timing and Scheduling:

- Arrive on time for your scheduled shoot to maximize your time with the photographer.
- Plan ahead for any necessary breaks, especially if young children will be involved.

Snacks and Refreshments:

- Bring snacks and drinks for young children to keep them comfortable and happy during the shoot.
- Consider bringing water and snacks for yourself and other family members as well.

Discuss Preferences with Photographer:

- Communicate any specific preferences or ideas you have for the shoot with your photographer in advance.
- Trust your photographer's expertise in posing and composition, but also feel free to share any special requests.

Relax and Have Fun:

- Encourage everyone in the family to relax and enjoy the experience—natural expressions make for the best photos!
- Incorporate games or activities to keep children engaged and encourage natural interactions.

Location Considerations:

- Discuss location options with your photographer in advance and consider places that hold meaning for your family.
- Be open to both indoor and outdoor locations depending on the look and feel you want to achieve.
