BHS staff members and former students share their memories of Mr. LeFever

Mr. Kepley, Principal

The word that best describes Mr. LeFever is caring. My favorite memory is going to The Brown Bag in the summer and both of us ordering Super Nachos. We would enjoy our meal and have good conversation.

Ms. Sharp, Guidance Counselor
The word that best describes Mr. LeFever is dedicated (to Bement and his students). I have many great memories, but this one stands out. For years we sang in a faculty ensemble at the Christmas concert. In one song, he had to yell "Let me out of here!" He said it in such a way that always made us laugh.

Mrs. Taylor, Dean of Students

The word that best describes Mr. LeFever is caring. The teachers used to play Songburst in the lounge at lunch hour. Mr. LeFever was always one of the first ones with the lyrics. We would try to beat him to the punch but usually to no avail.

Anne LeFever Kirby

One of my fondest memories is when he used to glue A+ papers with his face wearing either a Abraham Lincoln or George Washington wig.

Tosha Followell, former student

Mr. LeFever was a wonderful person, guidance counselor and teacher. He always listened and gave the best advice he could. I enjoyed his classes. I will never forget his banjo and coon hat! He made learning fun, and I always looked forward to his class. He is remembered fondly.

Peggy Wright Wells, former student
Class of 1978

One of my fondest memories of Mr. LeFever is hearing his gut-busting laugh, be it in Geography class, American Problems, at the swimming pool where he was a manager, in our Sunday School class or sitting beside him in the Methodist Church Choir Loft during practice on Wednesday nights.
God Bless You Mr. LeFever

In 2014, Bement High School lost a beloved faculty member. Mr. Kent LeFever began teaching Social Studies in August 1973. At the end of the 2004-2005 school year, Mr. LeFever partially retired and began working as a part-time guidance counselor in the fall of 2005. He was dedicated to this job until shortly before his death. Mr. LeFever, you are greatly missed!

Mr. Elder, Social Studies Teacher

The word that best describes Mr. LeFever is caring. I really enjoyed our daily talks about worldly events, our beloved Chicago Cubs and history in general. He was very helpful to me when I started teaching and I will be forever grateful for his wisdom & advice.

2015

In the four years they have been here, the seniors have left us with some wisdom. Wherever you go, you will always be remembered here at BHS.

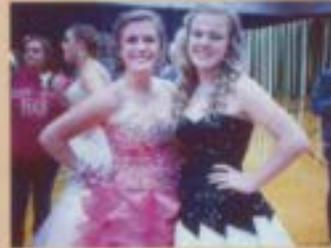

The juniors really know how to "live it up". They cherish every memory of their High School years, before they become seniors

Class of 2017 Success

The sophomores really enjoy the memories that they make with their classmates.

CLASS OF 2018

The freshmen really enjoyed their first year in high school. They can't wait for what's to come.

New Teachers

We asked our new teachers some questions as they began their time at BHS. Here are some of their favorite high school memories:
Ms. Ames: During my last month of high school, my friends and I got to paint art on the lockers and walls in the art classroom. Also every Wednesday was "chicken day" in the cafeteria, which was glorious.

Ms. Hill: Homecoming week was always fun and full of memorable activities.

Dr. Lewis: About 40 of us were TPing our band director's house (sorry Ms. Reynolds for giving the students this idea...) It was about 1 a.m. The local police showed up, which was a bit scary because they don't have much to do in Dixon, CA besides keeping high school students in line. One officer pointed at me and said in a harsh voice "You! Come here!" I thought I was going to throw up, since my dad knew nearly every cop in town. When I got to the car, he told me the neighbors had complained about the noise and we should finish up quietly. I got some very impressed looks from my friends when I told them we weren't in trouble. By the way, did you know that with enough time and toilet paper, you can make a tree swing out of toilet paper?

Masquerade

was the theme chosen by the Student Council for this year's dance and parade. Several classes incorporated mask-r-aid into their TOP. There was a threat of rain in the morning, which luckily held off. However, the wind did make it difficult to keep some decorations in place.
