

Dear Neighbor and Business Owner,

We are excited to invite you to become a valued sponsor of this year's Into The Pine Music Festival! Dive into the creative oasis of Paradise Lakes Campground, where music, arts, and the vibrant spirit of Hammonton, NJ come together in an unforgettable celebration of local talent and culture.

John Facchinei has channeled two decades of festival spirit and expertise into the fabrication of Into The Pines Music Festival, a newer gem in South Jersey's music, art & cultural scene. Although our festival is in its early year's, John's legacy in fostering vibrant gatherings shines through. With a knack for curating eclectic music blends, he's created a haven for enthusiasts and artists alike. This year's lineup promises a symphony of styles, from bluegrass to brass and funk, featuring both rising stars and beloved national acts.

We're not just a festival; we're a movement. Family is at the core of the Into The Pines Music Festival—we create memories for all ages with a kids' corner brimming with activities, learning experiences, and sensory-friendly fun. Adults will find solace in our tranquil spaces, where art and music flourish.

Your partnership is instrumental to our symphony. With a proven successful track record and a growing digital presence, we invite you to elevate your local business's impact alongside us. Explore our tailored sponsorship tiers, designed to provide unique exposure and meaningful community engagement.

Monetary donations are greatly appreciated. Tiered to different levels listed below, to allow even the smallest company the opportunity to help support.
