

Craney's Critters

Green Keel-Bellied Lizard Care Sheet

Lifespan:				Experience Level:
Adult Size:	Body: 6-8 Tail: 8-10			Active:	Diurnal
Temperatures
UV Needed:	T5 10.0 10-12hrs			Unless otherwise noted do not keep more than 1 male per an enclosure
Basking:	90	Degrees F		Solo or Cohab:	Can cohab
Daytime:	72-80	Degrees F
High Side:		Degrees F		Cleaning:
Low Side:		Degrees F
Nighttime:	65	Degrees F
Humidity:	60-80			Bath:	N/A
Food	Insectivores; eat more than most lizards their size
Juvenile:	daily
Adult:	2-3 times a week
Water:	Small water bowl, preferably on a feeding ledge
Recommended Housing:				Recommended Substrate:
At least an <18X18X24 or 36Lx18Wx36H> for a pair			2" deep
Recommended Décor:
These are arboreal, so lots of climbing decor; add a full spectrum light also
Handling:				Brumation:
don't like to be handled
Sexing:
Males have femoral pores between their hind legs and females do not Breeding:
Cycle them according to their natural habitat's seasons (hot & wet spring then cooler dryer summer); lays eggs up to 12 but avg 6-8; egg gluers so they will be attached to decor; remove eggs and incubate at 1:1 mix of vermiculite or sphagnum moss
Recommended Greens if Applicable				Recommended Insects if Applicable
Misc Information
Stay Away From / Avoid
Remember to quarantine newly aquired animals for at least 2-3 months to monitor for illness and if it is eating/deficating
*This care sheet is provided by Craney's Critters as a source and it is recommended that you also do your own research as new information is discovered often. This information has been gathered from sites trusted by Craney's Citters but may not be 100% accurate as we are not zoologists nor vets.							