

The 70's Tour
by
Tim Hanley
Rain City Studios
© 2025

Still smokin', still standin'. The 70's Tour rolls on. #The70sTour #ClassicRock #70AndStillRising rock, anthem, orchestral

+ Show full styles

The 70s Tour – Suno Music Version

[Intro – Spoken - shout with drumstick count-in]

1. 2.

[Verse 1]

I was born in the heat of the vinyl age
Leather boots and a Marshall rage
Tore through life with a rebel shout
Burned a few bridges on my way out

[Pre-Chorus]

But I ain't slowin' down, don't pass that torch
Got fuel in my veins and fire on this porch

[Chorus]

This is The 70s Tour, I'm takin' the stage
Grey in my beard but I'm burnin' with rage
Turn it up loud, blow off the doors
I'm seventy strong and I'm askin' for more

[Verse 2]

I got scars like medals, a zipper for pride
(Yeah, the kind that comes from a surgeon's guide)
Four chambers patched, but I still drum fast
Can't kill a soul built to outlast

[Pre-Chorus]

Don't tell me to sit, don't hand me a cane
I'll be headbantin' while you're boardin' the train

[Chorus]

This is The 70s Tour, not some farewell ride

The 70's Tour
by
Tim Hanley
Rain City Studios
© 2025

It's a full-blown riot, with my boots untied
Turn up the amps, let the rafters roar
I'm seventy strong—and ready for war

[Solo Instrumental Break]

[Verse 3]
I've seen friends fade and love slip through
Watched the mirror lie like it always do
But I found my truth in the strings I bend
And this wild old ride ain't near the end

[Verse 4]
To the old rockers, the midnight crew
With your busted knees and your worn-out shoes
This anthem's yours—raise your fists and sing
We ain't done yet—we're still kings and queens

[Guitar Solo Instrumental Break]

[Bridge – Breakdown]
Ain't no rocking chair in my destiny
I'll be raising hell till I cease to be
Whiskey's out, but the soul still burns
Every stage I hit, another lesson learned

[Chorus – Key Modulation + Double Time]
This is The 70s Tour, the legend begins
With a middle-finger grin and a backbeat of sins
Turn it up louder, let the past be the lore
I'm seventy strong—and I'm kicking down doors!

[Bridge – Breakdown]
Ain't no rocking chair in my destiny
I'll be raising hell till I cease to be
Whiskey's out, but the soul still burns
Every stage I hit, another lesson learned

[Chorus – Key Modulation + Double Time]
This is The 70s Tour, the legend begins

The 70's Tour
by
Tim Hanley
Rain City Studios
© 2025

With a middle-finger grin and a backbeat of sins
Turn it up louder, let the past be the lore
I'm seventy strong—and I'm kicking down doors!

[Outro – Spoken Refrain Over Sustained Guitar Feedback]
1... 2... 3... 4...
Rock ain't dead—

This is The 70s Tour, the legend begins
With a middle-finger grin and a backbeat of sins
Turn it up louder, let the past be the lore
I'm seventy strong—and I'm kicking down doors!